Objective:

IGNITE Session was organized on 22nd March, 2024 by Center for Students & Customer Initiatives in association with Department of Computer Engineering.

Objectives of the program

- To disseminate the knowledge/Information acquired by the students by attending various Student Development Programs, Workshops, Seminars/Webinars regarding new development in the field of academics as well as latest emerging technologies and development in the industry among fellow students.
- Exploring new avenues which includes passion, fun & excitement areas.

- To encourage peer learning activities and knowledge sharing among Interdisciplinary and Trans-disciplinary students.

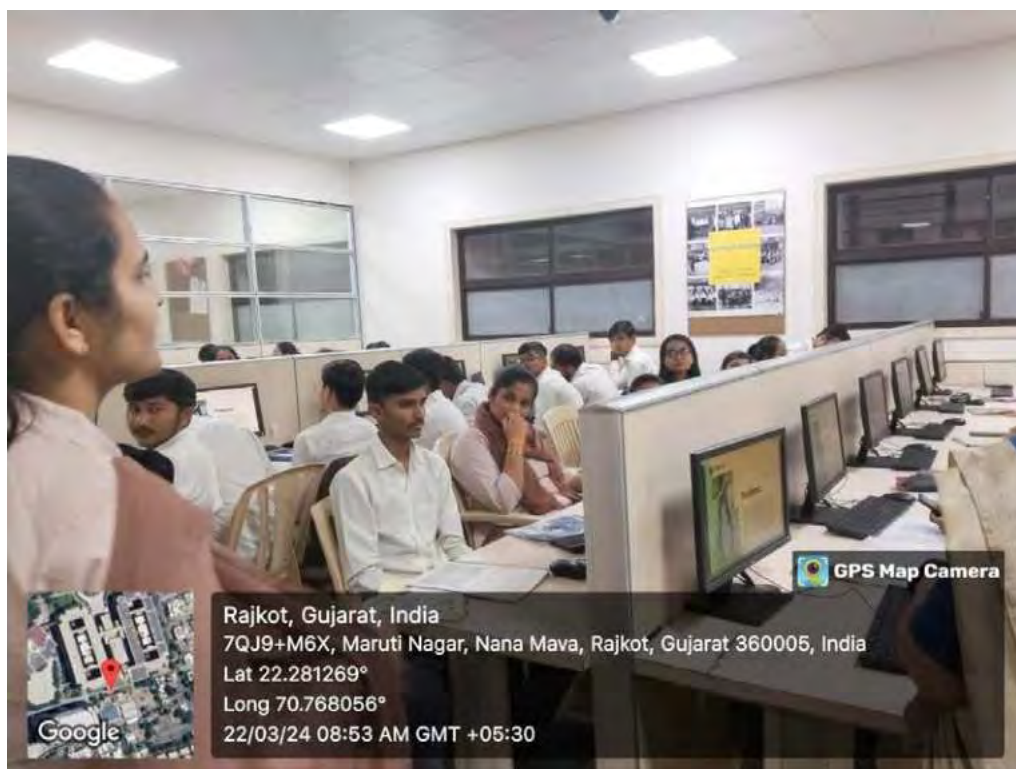

In this session ms. Lenisha Kukadiya presented her innovative project – Solar Cleaning Robot In a world where the urgency to transition to renewable energy sources has never been greater, solar power emerges as a beacon of hope for a sustainable future. However, with this promise comes a significant challenge – the maintenance of solar panels to ensure optimal performance. Traditional methods of cleaning solar panels often rely on water-intensive processes, presenting environmental concerns and inefficiencies. This is where the Solar Cleaner 2000 steps in – a pioneering solution designed to revolutionize solar panel maintenance.

By this robot we can approach to ecofriendly solar maintenance. We can generate 30%more solar energy. It was an interesting and informative session.

The Session was attended by Ms. Tosai Bhalodiya, HoD CE Department, Ms. Krina Madam and faculty members from Department of Computer Engineering.

INDUSTRIAL VISIT AT ADANI -MUNDRA

AND

02/03/2024

TIME:-

6:00 AM (DEPARTURE FROM UNIVERSITY CAMPUS)

ORGANIZED BY:-

DEPARTMENT OF INFORMATION AND TECHNOLOGY..

Glimpses of the event: -

This visit organized for 4th & 6th semester B.Tech I.T. students. The purpose of an industrial visit is to provide students or professionals with a firsthand understanding of how various industries operate. Industrial visits serve several important purposes.

Industrial visits are organized with specific objectives in mind, aiming to provide participants with a comprehensive understanding of industries, their operations, and the broader business environment. Project Udaan is a learning-based initiative focused on the youth of the nation.

Under this project, services are absolutely- free of cost for all types of Govt. schools and with nominal charges for other educational institutes. Wherein students are given a chance to visit the Adani Port, Adani Power & Adani Wilmar facilities to get an insight into the large scale business activities carried out there.

The major objective behind organizing such visits is to encourage young minds to develop an interest in all sorts of enterprises and to encourage them to dream big in life.

The Adani Foundation believes that when students are given exposure, it helps them to understand their own potential and get motivated to work towards the same.

The Udaan project is geared towards motivating the students of our country and encouraging them to achieve greatness as well as inculcating an entrepreneurial spirit in their lives. It is a learning based initiative focusing on the UN's fourth Sustainable Development Goal - Quality Education. In a day and age where education continues to reside mainly within the pages of a school textbook and the four walls of a classroom, Project Udaan continues to create a difference in the educational sector by creating experience-based learning.

The project keeps the conveyor belt of India's young dreamers moving from hope to inspiration, and eventually, from perspiration to success. The culmination of it all, for the Adani Foundation, would be the discovery of the next brilliant visionary; for the country, however, it would be the beginning of a new successful chapter

Activity Report

Objective:

The primary objective of the event was to teach and educate students on how to analyse literature through media and have a deeper understanding of the media by doing a critical analysis.

The event began with an introductory speech by Dr Shivangi Oza, informing the students of the purpose of the event. The students were shown a movie, "12th Fail", about a boy from the village 'Chambal', who after getting inspired by a deputy inspector, dreams of becoming an officer as well. He is told to stop cheating and he does. He starts working hard and honestly. He faces many hardships but he does not give up. The students were asked to carefully observe the movie, its message and themes to learn from it and analyse it.

A dedicated question and answer session provided students with the opportunity to express their analysis of the movie, as well as what they learned from it. Later the faculty and students had lunch together as a bonding experience to get to know each other better.

Brief Summary

At the start of the day of the "National Conference," 2 students of the B.Sc. (Microbiology) semester-4 girls greeted the distinguished guests on our campus. Following the welcoming ceremony, the inaugural Inauguration Ceremony began with a prayer and lamp-lighting by the guests. Small acts of respect and affection were shown to all dignitaries with the delivery of delicate carriers of flowers. Dr. Rohan Pandya, the Head of the Department and Convenor of the Conference, informed about the conference. D.D.Vyas, the Registrar, read out the message of the President of Atmiya University. Prof. Samir Vaidya, Secretary of the "Sarvodya Kewani Samaj" in Rajkot, made a brief statement followed by Dr. Neepa Pandhi, who concluded the proceedings by voting for the inaugural session.

Technical Session-1

Prof. Hemant Purohit highlighted the importance of ecosystem functions in maintaining the health, stability, and sustainability of the environment, animals, and humans. These functions provide essential services like clean air, water, crop pollination, climate regulation, and biodiversity maintenance. Human activities like deforestation, pollution, and excessive use of chemical fertilizers can disrupt these resources, leading to biodiversity loss and degradation of ecosystem services. Conservation and sustainable management practices are essential for preserving ecosystem health. Key impacts on ecosystem health include air pollution, soil degradation, and water quality issues. Managing these resources effectively ensures soil health, plant productivity, and biodiversity conservation. Addressing air and water pollution while promoting energy efficiency can alleviate the burden on the environment, animals, and human health. Ecosystem health also focuses on the flow of pathogens, pharmaceutical chemicals, and antibiotics, which can generate threats to human health over time.

National conference on Environmental Microbiology & Regulatory Aspects

Technical Session-2

Prof. Dayanand Agsar's talk highlighted the importance of habitats and ecosystems in microorganisms, particularly in limestone quarries and powder deposits in India. These environments, with harsh conditions and unique mineral compositions, provide a niche for various microorganisms, with actinobacteria being a notable example due to their metabolic diversity, genome complexity, and adaptability. The study identified novel species and genera of actinobacteria and developed a submerged bioprocess for producing water-soluble melanin from actinobacteria, with Streptomyces sp. showing promising results. The research also led to the development of a biosensor for detecting phenolic constituents in industrial effluents using tyrosinase conjugated with gold nanoparticles, highlighting its practical implications in environmental monitoring and remediation.

Technical Session-3

Prof. Sasikala's research on microbial diversity in India, one of the 17 megadiverse nations with four biodiversity hotspots, has led to significant discoveries. Her team has identified around 300 novel species, 56 novel genera, two novel families, and one novel order of bacteria. These microbial cultures have potential applications in biofertilizers, biocolorants, solid waste management, and bioremediation. Their translational research has resulted in patents and commercial use of phototrophic bacteria in various sectors. Their team has also conducted microcosm studies demonstrating the potential of a bacterial consortium for bioremediation of crude oil. Their research also reveals a wealth of prokaryotic diversity in the endo-microbiome of yeasts, which could have implications for disease transmission. Additionally, their investigations into predatory bacteria reveal new potentials, including the use of known bacteria as "live antibiotics" and a new level of micro- diversity involving "predatovars."

Technical Session-4

Prof. Arun Kharat's research highlights the alarming consequences of antibiotic use in India and the global challenge of antimicrobial resistance (AMR). AMR has been declared a pandemic by the World Health Organization (WHO) in 2017, but there has been stagnation in the discovery of new antibiotics with novel mechanisms of action. The WHO established the Global Antimicrobial Resistance and Use Surveillance System (GLASS) in 2015 to monitor AMR in bacteria causing common human infections and track antimicrobial consumption. As of 2022, 127 countries participate in GLASS. In India, the government has prioritized AMR, launching the National Action Plan on AMR (2017-2021) and promoting rational and evidence-based antimicrobial therapy. Prof. Kharat's research also emphasizes the need for improved awareness and regulation surrounding antibiotic use, particularly regarding the dangers of self-medication.

Technical Session-5

Prof. J.N. Joshi discussed the impact of air pollutants on human health, highlighting the importance of SI units in scientific communication. SI units, including meters, kilograms, seconds, amperes, kelvin, mole, and candela, ensure consistency and uniformity in scientific and technical communication. They are crucial for accurate measurements in research, engineering, and scientific disciplines. Air pollution, caused by pollutants like particulate matter, nitrogen oxides, sulfur dioxide, volatile organic compounds, and carbon monoxide, poses significant health risks, including respiratory problems, cardiovascular diseases, and neurological disorders. Understanding these pollutants' sources, distribution, and impacts is crucial for developing effective strategies for air quality management and public health protection.

Technical Session-6

Dr. Manish Rachchh, CEO and MD of Accuprec Research Pvt Ltd, emphasizes the importance of microbiologists in the pharmaceutical sector, particularly in ensuring compliance with regulatory requirements for new drug and medical device registrations with the Central Drugs Standard Control Organization (CDSCO) in India. Under the NDCT Rules, 2019 new pharmaceutical products must undergo various testing aspects including microbiological testing. For medical devices, microbiological testing is essential in accordance with international standards such as ISO, IP, and USP. Dr. Rachchh's presentation will discuss the specific regulatory requirements and standards for microbiological testing for both pharmaceutical products and medical devices, emphasizing the need for compliance for successful product registration.

National conference on Environmental Microbiology & Regulatory Aspects

Technical Session-7

Dr. Madhavi Joshi emphasizes the importance of biosafety and biocontainment in India's bioresearch facilities, highlighting their crucial role in preventing accidental exposure to pathogens and environmental contamination. She discusses the regulatory frameworks set by government bodies like the Department of Biotechnology and the Indian Council of Medical Research, which outline biosafety standards in research institutions. Dr. Joshi emphasizes the need for continuous evaluation and enhancement of biosafety programs, including worker proficiency, equipment effectiveness, and security measures. She also emphasizes the importance of periodic risk assessments and audits to identify potential safety gaps and address them promptly. As India's bioresearch sector evolves, Dr. Joshi advocates for a proactive approach to biosafety governance and regulatory oversight, fostering a culture of accountability and sustainable growth.

Technical Session-8

Dr. Chirayu Desai's research focuses on treating hazardous industrial wastewaters, particularly those from textile coloration and dyestuff manufacturing industries. These wastewaters are complex and resistant to biodegradation, making traditional treatment methods economically unfeasible, especially in developing countries. Dr. Desai's research group explores the application of bio-electrochemical treatment systems, such as microbial fuel cells (MFCs), which harness chemical energy from pollutants to produce bioelectricity. They introduce a novel approach by integrating MFC systems with constructed wetlands to form hybrid constructed wetland-microbial fuel cell (CW-MFC) systems. The pilot-scale CW-MFC systems use a two-step horizontal subsurface flow constructed wetland planted with specific plant species and bio augmentation with an enriched electroactive bacterial community (DC5) to enhance treatment and power generation efficiency. The research suggests that these optimized bio augmented systems can be scaled up for on-site applications in treating hazardous textile dye industry wastewaters.

A poster presentation session was organized at the conclusion of technical session 4 on February 23, 2024. 14 research experts presented their work offline, while 22 presented their work online. The second day of the conference, February 24th, began with oral presentations. During the session, 2 academics and 7 research scholars presented their research work in person, while 7 academics and 9 research scholars presented their research work in person as well.

On the second day's conclusion, Professor Shiv Tripathi, Vice Chancellor of Atmiya University, delivered a speech to the audience and distributed prizes to winners of oral and poster participants. Dr. Abhijeet Joshi provided a summary of the conference, and Dr. Raksha Bawankar delivered the vote of thanks.

National conference on Environmental Microbiology & Regulatory Aspects

Outcomes:

By bringing together experts in the field, the conference will likely lead to the development of new strategies and technologies for monitoring and controlling microbial populations in the environment. This will in turn help to better protect ecosystems and human health from the negative impacts of microbial contamination. Additionally, the conference may also result in the establishment of new regulatory policies and guidelines based on the latest research and findings presented at the event. Ultimately, the future outcome of the National Conference on Environmental Microbiology and Regulatory Aspects holds great promise for advancing the field and improving environmental quality.

Conference Theme & Tracks

The 2nd International Conference on Emerging Trends & Contemporary Practices (ICETCP-2024) aims to explore the inter-connected dimensions of technology, Sustainability and Co-existence. Artificial Intelligence (AI) refers to the simulation of human intelligence processes by computer systems. These processes include learning (the acquisition of information and rules for using the information), reasoning (using rules to reach approximate or definite conclusions), and self-correction. AI systems can be designed to perform tasks that would typically require human intelligence, such as visual perception, speech recognition, decision-making, and language translation.

1. Introduction to AI: The workshop usually begins with an overview of artificial intelligence, including its definitions, applications, and impact on various industries.
2. Fundamental Concepts: Participants are introduced to fundamental concepts in AI, such as machine learning, deep learning, neural networks, and natural language processing.
3. Tools and Frameworks: Depending on the workshop's focus, attendees may be introduced to popular AI tools and frameworks such as TensorFlow, PyTorch, scikit-learn, and Keras.
4. Hands-on Exercises: This is the core component of the workshop where participants work through practical exercises and projects under the guidance of instructors.
5. Data Preparation and Preprocessing: Data is a critical component of AI applications, so workshops often include sessions on data preparation, cleaning, and preprocessing techniques.
6. Evaluation and Performance Metrics: Participants learn how to evaluate the performance of their AI models using appropriate metrics and techniques.
7. Best Practices and Pitfalls: The workshop covers best practices for developing AI applications, as well as common pitfalls and challenges to avoid.
8. Real-world Applications: Throughout the workshop, instructors may showcase real-world examples and case studies of AI applications across different domains such as healthcare, finance, e-commerce, and more.
9. Q&A and Discussion: There's usually dedicated time for participants to ask questions, discuss concepts, and share their insights and experiences.
10. Follow-up Resources: At the end of the workshop, participants may receive resources such as code samples, documentation, and references to further their learning journey.

We Department of Computer Engineering, Atmiya University would remain thankful to Parin Thakar sir for giving an workshop on AI to our students of 4th semester.

REPORT

The Department of Commerce at Atmiya University organized a live screening of the Union Budget presentation as on 1st February, 2024. This event provided a unique opportunity for commerce students to witness the annual financial statement being laid out by the Finance Minister Ms. Nirmala Sitaraman, fostering a direct engagement with the country's economic planning and fiscal strategy. The anticipation for the Union Budget screening was evident among the student community, especially given the volatile economic climate leading up to the budget announcement. To prepare the students for a comprehensive understanding, faculty guided the students for focusing on budget terminology, its components, and its significance to the economy and individual citizens.

The live screening was scheduled in the university's Various Classrooms for Entire Departmental students, which had been equipped with a projection screen and sound system to ensure an immersive viewing experience. The event underlining the wide interest of students in the nation's financial planning. As the finance minister commenced the budget presentation, enveloped in a focused silence, with students keenly following every announcement and its implications. Key highlights such as tax reforms, allocation to different sectors, and new economic policies were met with mixed reactions — curiosity, enthusiasm, and sometimes, concern. To enhance the learning experience, live commentary was provided by faculty members, offering insights into the implications of various announcements. This real-time analysis helped demystify complex economic terms and policies for the students, making the budget more accessible and understandable.

The successful conduct of this event highlighted the university's commitment to providing an enriching educational experience, preparing students not just for exams but for the complexities of the real economic world. The efforts of every faculty member are appreciated for the same.

Activity Report

Objective:

The primary objective of the session was to impart knowledge on psychology and showcase a practical experiment so that the students can see and experience the results first hand.

On the first day, 1st February, 2024, the students were taught about various subjective topics of psychology. On the second day, 2nd February, 2024, a practical experiment was conducted on the basis of Trial and Error Theory. It proved the hypothesis that as the number of trials increase, the number of errors decrease. This theory is based on the daily learning method.

These sessions helped the students understand the Trial and Error Theory better as they had the chance to experience it and observe the results closely. This practical session will give the students a chance to enhance their academic performance.

Introduction

On November 24, 2023, a group of 07 civil engineering students from Atmiya University visited the Atal Bridge, an architectural marvel located in Ahmedabad, Gujarat. The purpose of the visit was to provide students with practical insights into modern bridge engineering and design principles, supplementing their theoretical knowledge with real-world applications.

Objectives of the Visit

1. Understanding Structural Design: To study the structural design and materials used in the construction of the Atal Bridge.
2. Construction Techniques: To observe and learn about the various construction techniques employed.
3. Aesthetic and Functional Aspects: To analyze the bridge's aesthetic appeal alongside its functional efficiency.
4. Maintenance and Safety: To understand the maintenance protocols and safety measures in place.

Overview of Atal Bridge

The Atal Bridge, named after former Prime Minister Atal Bihari Vajpayee, spans the Sabarmati River and is a significant addition to the Sabarmati Riverfront development project. It is renowned for its unique design and the integration of artistic elements with engineering precision.

Key Features

- Length and Design: The bridge spans approximately 300 meters and features a distinctive lattice structure.
- Materials: Constructed using high-strength steel and reinforced concrete, ensuring durability and strength.
- Aesthetics: Equipped with LED lighting and artistic motifs, the bridge is both a functional infrastructure and a visual delight.
- Accessibility: Designed to be pedestrian-friendly, with ramps and seating areas to enhance user experience.

Visit Details

Welcome and Introduction

Upon arrival, the students were welcomed by the project engineer, Mr. A. Sharma, who provided an introductory session about the history and significance of the bridge. He explained the initial planning stages, challenges faced during construction, and how these were overcome.

Structural Analysis

The students were then taken on a guided tour across the bridge. Key structural elements were highlighted, including the:

- Foundation: Explanation of the deep foundation system used to support the bridge.
- Superstructure: Detailed insights into the truss and girder arrangement that provides stability and distributes load efficiently.
- Materials Used: Discussion on the selection of materials and their properties that contribute to the bridge's resilience.

Construction Techniques

A session was dedicated to the various construction techniques employed. This included:

- Pre-fabrication: The use of pre-fabricated components to reduce construction time and enhance quality control.
- Cranes and Heavy Machinery: Demonstrations on how cranes and other machinery were used to erect the large structural components.
- Safety Protocols: Emphasis on the safety measures implemented to protect workers and ensure structural integrity during construction.

Activity Report

Date: 16-10-2023

On the birthday of our honorable former President and 'Missile Man' of India Dr. A.P.J. In my memory, this day is declared as 'National innovation Day'. To celebrate this day, the Department of Commerce of the Faculty of Business and Commerce of Atmiya University has organized a Poster Making Competition. On National Innovation Day, India takes pride in its pioneers like C.V. Raman, Dr. APJ Abdul Kalam, and countless others who have illuminated the path of innovation. The day serves as a reminder that innovation is the cornerstone of progress, transforming ideas into solutions for societal challenges. It's a time to encourage research, entrepreneurship, and technological advancements, ensuring that India remains at the forefront of global innovation, paving the way for a brighter future. National Innovation Day in India is a vibrant celebration of creativity, ingenuity, and the spirit of innovation. It's a day to honour the country's rich history of groundbreaking inventions and to inspire future generations to push the boundaries of technology and science. Through this day, India renews its commitment to fostering an ecosystem that nurtures innovation, driving progress and prosperity for all.

In this competition, 25 students have participated and explained different concepts. Professor emeritus Dr. G.D. Acharya was invited to felicitate the students. The event was well planned and executed by Department of Commerce.

- To encourage peer learning activities and knowledge sharing among Interdisciplinary and Trans-disciplinary students.

A brief note about the Topic:

Graph theory is study of graph, which mathematical structures used to model pairwise relations between objects. A graph in this context is made up of vertices (also called nodes or points) which are connected by edges (also called a links or lines). Graph theory is a fundamental concept in computer science and mathematics, with a wide range of practical applications. It provides a powerful framework for modeling and analyzing complex systems and networks, making it a valuable tool in solving real-world problems.

It was presented by Mr. Bhavik Solanki and Ms. Khyati Detroja students of M.Sc. Mathematics semester 3.

The Importance of graph theory: Graph theory has applications far beyond the world of discrete mathematics. For instance, much of computer science operates through the usage of graph algorithms and data structures. Chains of code operate like the vertices and edges of a graph. Visual presentation of data makes it easier to understand large amounts of data, trends, and relationships. The use of graphs in daily life also helps in making an analysis. For example, it provides structure in assessing performances, sales, and even deadlines. Seeing things visually helps you make quicker decisions. Graph theory is also important because it is used to model and solve real-world problems in various fields, including computer science, social networks, biology, geography, telecommunications, and more. It provides a powerful framework for understanding relationships, optimizing systems, and developing algorithms for a wide range of applications.

- How it is useful in career enhancement: It can significantly enhance your career by providing specialized knowledge, problem-solving skills, networking opportunities, and the potential for advancement in a variety of fields. It equips you to tackle complex challenges and can make you a more valuable asset in your chosen profession. Most companies are on the lookout for such individuals to handle their network systems. SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
High-quality education (SDG 4): Students of all ages can access and enjoy educational materials on graph theory through interactive learning platforms. Through the provision of interactive tutorials, tests, and simulations, these platforms augment comprehension and memory of graph theory ideas, so supporting SDG 4's objective of guaranteeing inclusive and equitable high-quality education for all.
Infrastructure, Industry, and Innovation (SDG 9): Knowledge Network analysis, transportation planning, computer science, and other professions all depend on graph theory. Graph theory interactive learning aligns with SDG 9's goal of encouraging inclusive and sustainable industrialization and fostering innovation by giving students the tools they need to tackle complicated problems and create innovative applications in a variety of industries.
Sustainable Cities and Communities (SDG 11): Transportation networks, infrastructure optimization, and urban planning all make use of graph theory. The aim of SDG 11 is to make cities and human settlements inclusive, safe, resilient, and sustainable. Interactive learning helps achieve this objective by offering interactive materials to learn about graph theory applications in urban development.

Event Description

On 11th October 2023, the Information Technology Department of Atmiya University, Rajkot, organized a successful industrial visit to BISAG (Bhaskaracharya Institute for Space Applications and Geo-informatics) in Gandhinagar. The visit aimed to provide students with hands-on exposure to advanced technologies used in space applications, geospatial data management, and broadcasting. During the visit, students were given a detailed tour of the facility and observed demonstrations of real-time geospatial technology applications and satellite communication systems. The hands-on experience enabled them to understand how technology is utilized in national development projects, especially in areas like disaster management, rural development, and natural resource management. BISAG, located in Gandhinagar, is a premier national institute under the Government of India that focuses on applications in satellite communication, geospatial technology, and remote sensing. BISAG plays a critical role in providing geo-informatics services for various sectors like agriculture, land management, disaster management, and urban planning.

This course introduces students to PL/SQL, Procedural Language for SQL. Explore the differences between SQL and PL/SQL. Examine the characteristics of PL/SQL and how it is used to extend and automate SQL.

PL/SQL Workshop certification is a recognized qualification that validates an individual's expertise in using the Oracle Database, particularly in the use of Procedural Language/Structured Query Language (PL/SQL). It covers fundamental to complex concepts such as control structures, error handling, and working with large data sets. This certification is commonly used by industries as evidence of a professional's ability to efficiently manage, develop, and manipulate data in Oracle databases. It provides industries standard of higher credibility, improved productivity and maximized return of investments in Oracle technology. Note that to earn this certification, one must pass the related Oracle exam.

Important Points :

1. Declare Variables
2. Write Executable Statements
3. Write Control Structures
4. Create Procedures and Functions
5. Create Packages
6. Create Triggers

We Department of Computer Engineering, Atmiya University would remain thankful to Parag Shukla Sir for giving a workshop to our students of 7th semester.

Decent Work and Economic progress (SDG 8): By utilizing digital platforms and technologies, digital marketing generates chances for employment, entrepreneurship, and economic progress. Digital marketing supports SDG 8's objective of fostering full and productive employment, sustained, inclusive, and sustainable economic growth, and decent work for all by offering chances for remote work, freelance labor, and the development of digital skills.
High-quality education (SDG 4): Digital marketing platforms facilitate the acquisition of digital marketing skills by providing educational materials, online courses, and skill development initiatives. Digital marketing helps achieve SDG 4: guaranteeing accessible and equitable quality education and promoting chances for lifetime learning for all people. It does this by supporting digital literacy, vocational training, and opportunities for lifelong learning.
Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure (SDG 9): Digital marketing transforms how businesses interact with consumers and markets by fostering innovation in business models, technologies, and marketing tactics. Digital marketing helps to achieve SDG 9's aim of promoting inclusive and sustainable industrialization and fostering innovation by supporting digital entrepreneurship, digital infrastructure development, and innovation in marketing strategies.
Gender Equality (SDG 5): Women who encounter obstacles in traditional employment can benefit from digital marketing's flexible work schedules and remote job alternatives. Digital marketing supports SDG 5's objective of attaining gender equality and empowering all women and girls by offering equitable access to tools, training, and employment opportunities.
Partnerships for the Goals (SDG 17): Building a supporting ecosystem for digital marketing and advancing the development of digital skills require cooperation between governments, corporations, academic institutions, and civil society organizations. SDG 17: Strengthening global relationships for sustainable development is one of the goals that digital marketing helps to achieve through promoting collaborations, knowledge sharing, and capacity building efforts.

About visit for course of hydrology and water resources

I. Introduction

On 28th August 2023, as part of our Hydrology and Water Resources course, our group embarked on an industrial visit to the Bhadar-I Dam, located in the picturesque Bhadar River Valley in Gujarat, India. The primary objective of this visit was to gain practical insights into the functioning of a hydroelectric dam and its importance in water resource management. We were accompanied by our faculty guide and a team of engineers and experts from the Bhadar-I Dam authority.

II. Overview of Bhadar-I Dam

The Bhadar-I Dam is a vital hydroelectric and irrigation project, situated approximately 100 kilometers from the city of Rajkot. The dam was commissioned in 1985 and has since been a significant contributor to the region's water resources. The dam serves a dual purpose: water storage for irrigation and drinking.

III. Learning Objectives

During our visit to the Bhadar-I Dam, we aimed to achieve the following learning objectives:

Understanding Dam Operations: Gain insights into the functioning of the dam, including its reservoir management and water release mechanisms.

Water Resource Management: Explore the importance of the dam in providing water for agricultural purposes and its role in regional water resource management.

Environmental Impact: Assess the environmental impact of the dam, including any mitigation measures taken.

IV. Visit Highlights

Guided Tour: Upon arrival at the dam, we received a warm welcome from the Bhadar-I Dam authority and were provided with safety gear. Our visit began with a comprehensive guided tour of the dam's infrastructure. We had the opportunity to observe the dam's gates, spillway, and the control room where dam operations are monitored.

Reservoir and Water Release: We learned about the dam's reservoir, which plays a crucial role in water storage for irrigation. The engineers explained the process of controlled water release and how it caters to the region's agricultural needs while minimizing flood risks downstream.

Environmental Considerations: Our group had a discussion with environmental experts on the environmental impact of the dam. We learned about fish ladders, reforestation efforts, and other measures taken to minimize ecological disruption.

Q&A Session: Following the tour, we had an interactive question and answer session with the dam authorities and engineers. This provided us with a deeper understanding of the dam's technical aspects and its significance in the region.

V. Key Takeaways

Our visit to the Bhadar-I Dam was incredibly informative, and we gained valuable insights into various aspects of hydrology and water resources. The key takeaways from the visit include:

Appreciation for the multifaceted role dams play in water resource management and renewable energy generation.

Understanding of the environmental considerations and measures taken to mitigate the impact of dam construction.

Practical knowledge of dam operations, including reservoir management and power generation.

Recognition of the vital role dams like Bhadar-I play in sustaining agriculture and providing clean energy.

VI. Conclusion

The industrial visit to Bhadar-I Dam was an enriching experience for our group. It provided us with a real-world perspective on the concepts we have been studying in our Hydrology and Water Resources course. We extend our gratitude to the Bhadar-I Dam authority and our faculty guide for facilitating this educational visit. The knowledge and insights gained will undoubtedly contribute to our academic and professional growth in the field of hydrology and water resources.

VII. Acknowledgments

We would like to express our sincere thanks to:

The Bhadar-I Dam authority and their team for their warm welcome and informative tour.

Our faculty guide for organizing and accompanying us on this valuable visit.

Our fellow students for their active participation and engagement during the visit.

This visit has been a pivotal learning experience, and we look forward to applying our newfound knowledge in our future studies and careers.

EVENT OVERVIEW

This report details a session hosted by the GDSC Club, focusing on the introduction of Git and GitHub for developers. The event commenced with a brief introduction, followed by an in-depth exploration of Git fundamentals and its role in version control. Participants actively participated in a hands-on exercise to solidify their understanding. Additionally, the concept of club activity points was introduced, highlighting their significance in fostering member engagement and contribution.

EVENT HIGHLIGHTS

Following the introduction, the session delved into the fundamental concepts of Git and GitHub, unpacking their significance for developers.

- Demystifying Git: The session didn't just explain Git; it demystified it. Complex concepts like version control systems were elucidated in clear, accessible terms, ensuring everyone grasped the core functionalities.
- Essential Git Commands: Moving beyond theory, the session equipped participants with the essential Git commands needed for effective version control. From initializing repositories to committing changes, pushing, and pulling code, attendees gained the practical skills for seamless collaboration and project management.
- Hands-on Learning: Theory is vital, but practice solidifies understanding. The session incorporated a hands-on exercise, where participants actively applied the learned Git and GitHub principles. This practical engagement fostered a deeper understanding of how these tools function in real-world scenarios.
- Club Activity Points System: The session introduced a unique concept - club activity points. This system serves a dual purpose:
 - Motivation: Points incentivize active participation and contribution within the club. Members are encouraged to engage, knowing their efforts are recognized.
 - Personalized Contribution: Points unlock opportunities and responsibilities tailored to individual interests and skill levels. This allows members to contribute in ways that align with their strengths and passions.

Key Takeaways

This report highlights five key takeaways from the session:

1. Importance of Version Control: The session underscored the critical role that version control plays in software development. By using Git, developers can track changes, revert to previous versions, and collaborate effectively.
2. Power of GitHub for Collaboration: GitHub's capabilities as a platform for code hosting, sharing, and collaborative development were highlighted. This platform streamlines teamwork and innovation within development teams.

3. Mastery of Essential Git Commands: Participants gained practical experience with foundational Git commands, equipping them for real-world version control tasks.
4. Value of Hands-on Learning: The hands-on exercise served as a crucial element in solidifying understanding and reinforcing the theoretical concepts discussed.
5. Motivation Through Club Activity Points: The concept of club activity points was introduced as a tool for motivating member engagement and contribution, fostering a more active and engaged club community.

Highlights of Visit:

Introduction:

RJ concrete is one of the largest manufacturers of ready mix concrete in the Rajkot region. Many famous structures, e.g., Kalawad road bridge, AIIMS building, are constructed from the ready mix concrete produced by RJ concrete. The visit aimed to provide students with practical insights into the process of producing ready-mix concrete and understanding the various stages involved in its production.

Plant Overview:

Upon arriving at the ready-mix concrete plant, the students were given an introductory presentation by the plant manager. The presentation covered the plant's history, its capacity, the types of concrete produced, and its contribution to local construction projects. The plant was equipped with modern machinery and adhered to quality and environmental standards.

Production Process:

The students were guided through the entire production process of ready-mix concrete, which included the following key stages:

Aggregate Storage and Handling:

The tour began at the aggregate storage area, where different types of aggregates – such as sand, gravel, and crushed stone – were stored in separate compartments. These aggregates are carefully selected and mixed to achieve the desired concrete properties.

Cement and Additive Storage:

The plant had designated storage areas for cement and various additives. Cement is a vital ingredient in concrete production, and additives are used to enhance specific properties like strength, durability, and workability.

Batching and Mixing:

The heart of the plant was the batching and mixing area. The students observed computer-controlled systems that accurately weighed and combined the aggregates, cement, additives, and water in predetermined proportions. The mixing process ensured uniform distribution of all components to achieve consistent concrete quality.

Transport and Delivery:

Once mixed, the concrete was loaded into specialized transit mixer trucks. These trucks are designed to keep the concrete agitated during transportation to prevent segregation and setting. The plant emphasized timely delivery to construction sites to maintain the quality of the concrete.

Quality Control:

The site visit also included a demonstration of the plant's quality control measures:

Testing of Raw Materials:

The plant conducts regular testing of aggregates, cement, and additives to ensure they meet the required standards before being used in production.

In-Process Testing: Throughout the mixing process, samples are taken to monitor the consistency, workability, and other properties of the concrete.

Finished Product Testing:

Before dispatch, representative samples of the ready-mix concrete are subjected to rigorous tests, including compressive strength, slump, and air content tests.

The site visit to the ready-mix concrete plant provided valuable insights for engineering students into the practical aspects of concrete production. Witnessing the process firsthand enhanced their understanding of the theoretical concepts learned in the classroom. The visit also highlighted the importance of quality control, environmental considerations, and efficient logistics in the concrete industry.

Overall, the site visit was a successful educational experience that bridged the gap between theory and practice, offering students a deeper appreciation for the complexities and importance of ready-mix concrete production in construction projects.

Student speaker:Vyas Kuldeep,Dhruvil Ramani

Topic: Electric Vehicle And Fuel Cell Technology

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
Goal 7: Affordably Clean Energy: By encouraging the use of clean and renewable energy in transportation, EVs and fuel cell vehicles (FCVs) help achieve this goal. EV and fuel cell technology help the world's transition to affordable, clean energy by lowering dependency on fossil fuels and encouraging the use of electricity and hydrogen as alternative fuels.
Objective 9: Infrastructure, Innovation, and Industry: Infrastructure and the automotive industries are driven by innovation brought forth by the advancement and application of EV and fuel cell technologies. These technologies aid in the development of resilient infrastructure, innovation, and sustainable industrialization by funding research and development into battery, hydrogen fuel cell, and charging infrastructure.
Goal 11: Sustainable Cities and Communities: EVs and FCVs contribute to creating sustainable and livable cities by reducing air pollution and greenhouse gas emissions. By promoting the adoption of zero-emission vehicles and supporting the development of charging and refueling infrastructure, these technologies help mitigate urban air pollution, improve public health, and create more sustainable transportation systems.
Goal 17: Partnerships for the Goals: Collaboration among governments, industry stakeholders, and civil society organizations is essential for promoting the adoption and deployment of EV and fuel cell technology. By fostering partnerships and knowledge-sharing initiatives, stakeholders can work together to develop supportive policies, invest in infrastructure, and promote the widespread adoption of clean transportation solutions, thus contributing to Goal 17.

HANDWRITING COMPETITION

DATE: JULY 22, 2023

ORGANIZED BY
DEPARTMENT OF HUMANITIES

Title of Activity	Good Handwriting Competition
Date	22 July, 2023
Venue	Room no.312
Activity Coordinator	Aanay Bhatt
Resource Person	Aanay Bhatt
Total No. of Participants	60
Details of Participants	Students of Semester 1, 3 & 5

Objective:

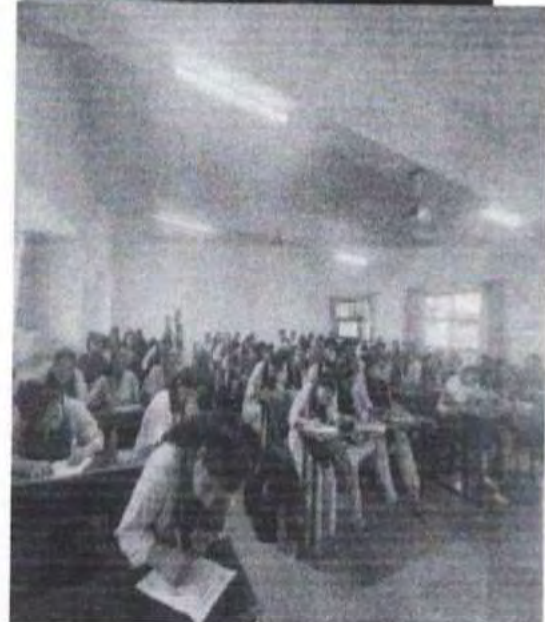

The primary objective of the activity was to evaluate a certain set of writing skills possessed by students via the non-traditional form of evaluation, i.e. through activity.

The activity/competition was held in three different phases, each evaluating a certain set of skills. First up was basic 'copywriting' activity. A paragraph was displayed on the screen and the students were asked to copy the paragraph as it is. The main aim was to indulge students in writing neatly and presentably and to check whether the students commit errors even while copying. Following the 'copy writing' activity was 'dictation.' A set of thirty words were pronounced loudly in the class and they were to spell them. In the concluding activity, again a paragraph was displayed but with a few errors. the task of the students was to find those errors and correct them.

Students seemed quite excited about a unique approach to evaluating students' prior knowledge of the subject and maintaining fun in the process of learning.

SDG goals addressed are

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
SDG 4: Quality Education: Games can be effective teaching instruments that offer dynamic and captivating educational experiences. Playing educational games can enhance one's critical thinking, problem-solving, literacy, and numeracy abilities. The aim of SDG 4—ensuring inclusive and equitable quality education for all—is furthered by encouraging the creation and application of educational games.
SDG 9: Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure: The creative, entrepreneurial, and technologically advanced game development industry is a dynamic, expanding sector. SDG 9 aims to promote inclusive and sustainable industrialization and inspire innovation. Through funding game technology research and development, encouraging access to digital infrastructure, and creating a supportive ecosystem for game producers, these activities help achieve this objective.
SDG 10: Reduced Inequalities: By portraying a variety of cultures, viewpoints, and identities, games can encourage social inclusion and diversity. SDG 10 aims to reduce inequality both within and between countries. In order to achieve this objective, efforts are made to create inclusive gaming worlds and characters, address preconceptions and biases, and promote diversity in game production teams.
SDG 12: Responsible Consumption and Production: By bringing attention to environmental issues and promoting behavior change through gameplay, game developers can support sustainable consumption and production practices. The aim of SDG 12 is to ensure sustainable patterns of consumption and production; this is achieved in part by integrating themes of sustainability, conservation, and environmental responsibility into games.
SDG 16: Peace, Justice, and Strong Institutions: Games can be used to create empathy, increase social awareness, and foster conversation about subjects including human rights, peacebuilding, and conflict resolution. Contributions to SDG 16's objectives of promoting inclusive and peaceful societies for sustainable development, ensuring that everyone has access to justice, and constructing inclusive, effective, and accountable institutions at all levels are made possible by the development of games that tackle social justice issues, encourage tolerance and understanding, and promote peaceful coexistence.

The session contains things to be taken care while preparing for CAT exams namely. The seminar has been conducted for the students of Commerce Department studying in BBA and B.Com on 02/03/2023 at 11:00 AM for 2 Hrs at Atmiya University.

Mr. Javed Malek from Career Launcher has been invited for delivering this session and to create awareness among students regarding available career options and help them in identifying their career objectives, to improve their employment opportunities. In this highly competitive world, it is really difficult to get secure admission in top class B-Schools; having admission in reputed Management University creates social and monetary values too.

To get admission over there a entry route is CAT exam score. Preparation needs immense level of dedication and self discipline to get good score in CAT exam. It is our privilege that Career Launcher was one of the sponsors of event named 'Adwitya 3.0' held by Faculty of Business and Commerce. We express our gratitude towards them. This program with the divine blessings of HDH Shri Hari Prasad Swamiji Maharaj and our guide and mentor President Atmiya University P.P. ABOUT VISIT:

Civil Engineering department, Atmiya University have arranged one day industrial visit at Green field airport, Hirasar Rajkot to enhance the knowledge of UG and PG students on designing, planning and construction of various elements of airport such runway, taxiway, apron, terminal building, link route, parking, etc. Also students were acknowledged with quality of material used in construction of all elements for airport.

During the visit, various aspects of the airport are reviewed, including its runways, taxiways, terminal buildings, air traffic control towers, and other facilities.

The field visit is typically conducted by a team of experts, including engineers, safety specialists, and airport authorities, who examine the airport's compliance with regulatory requirements, such as those set by ICAO, FAA, AAI and DGCAO. The team also evaluates the airport's emergency response procedures and contingency plans, including the readiness of its fire and rescue services.

Report

“Mumbai Dabbawalas Are considered to be among the best logistics and supply chains in the world.” Faculty of Business and Commerce has organised a Motivational Program- Zero to Hero Mumbai Dabbawala on 11th February, 2023. Around 500 students were actively participated.

The motivational Speakers were Mr. Ramdas B. Karvande- President of Mumbai Tiffin Box Suppliers and Mr. Ritesh S. Andre Spokesperson Mumbai Dabbawala.

According to Mr. Ritesh S. Andre, Mumbai's Dabbawala Army of 5,000 Dabbawalas has been feeding the cities over 200,000 residents with home-cooked food since 1890. He explained how they transport it every day between their homes and workplaces using bicycles and local train networks. They readily transport 20 to 40 tiffin boxes for adjacent locations while carrying them on their heads and shoulders and have been conducting the same straightforward business in a faultless manner for many years.

He continued by saying that the "Dabbalid " contains three markings that are unique to their code. The speed and cadence of labour are determined by the railroads, the brief amount of time they have to load and unload ensures that the system is in sync. 20 seconds to offload and exactly 40 seconds to board the crates. Tight restrictions are upheld, particularly when a dabbawala repeatedly gets fined or fired for delivering late or keeping a customer waiting while they are eating lunch. Also, consumers that cause the lunchbox preparation to be delayed during pickup are removed from the list. This is how they operate and instruct students in management. They are the finest in the world at logistics and supply chain management. More than 2000 students as well as faculties from different school and the universities along with students and faculties of Atmiya University attained in the program.

From January 8th to 11th, 2023, the Faculty of Business and Commerce, Department of Management, Atmiya University organized an Educational Tour to Imagica, a world-class theme park in India. The tour was designed to provide students with a unique learning experience that combined entertainment with education. The trip was attended by over 50 students from the university's management and commerce departments, along with faculty members.

The tour was structured around the theme of "Business and Entertainment" and aimed to provide students with insights into the business operations of theme parks. The students were exposed to various aspects of the theme park's business, including marketing, finance, and human resources. They also had the opportunity to participate in team-building activities and workshops, which helped to develop their communication, problem-solving, and leadership skills.

The highlight of the tour was a guided visit to Imagica's theme park, where students were able to experience various thrill rides, water rides, and attractions. The visit provided an opportunity for students to learn about the concept of experiential marketing and how theme parks use innovative marketing strategies to attract customers. The tour also included a visit to Imagica's educational zone, which showcased interactive exhibits that taught students about science and technology.

The Educational Tour to Imagica was a resounding success, providing students with a unique learning experience that combined entertainment with education. The trip helped to foster teamwork, communication, and problem-solving skills among students, while also providing them with insights into the business operations of theme parks. The Faculty of Business and Commerce, Department of Management, Atmiya University aims to continue its educational tours and field trips, providing students with opportunities for experiential learning and skill development.

The event was designed to make finance more accessible and engaging for students, and to provide them with a hands-on understanding of financial concepts. The event was attended by over 50 students from the university's management and commerce departments, along with faculty members.

The programme began with a series of interactive games and activities that tested students' knowledge of financial concepts such as budgeting, saving, and investing. The games were designed to be fun and engaging, and students were encouraged to participate in teams to promote teamwork and collaboration. The highlight of the event was a "Financial Scavenger Hunt" where students had to find and solve financial puzzles and challenges around the campus. The event also included a "Financial Trivia" competition where students were quizzed on their knowledge of financial concepts and current events.

The event was facilitated by experienced faculty members from the Department of Management, who provided guidance and support throughout the programme. The event concluded with a prize distribution ceremony, where winners of the games and competitions were awarded prizes. The "Fun with Finance" event was a huge success, and it provided students with a unique opportunity to learn about finance in a fun and engaging way. Topic: Ethical Hacking SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
SDG 9: Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure: By finding security flaws and creating workable solutions to safeguard networks, systems, and digital infrastructure, ethical hacking encourages innovation in cybersecurity. The promotion of best practices in cybersecurity management and the encouragement of innovation in cybersecurity technologies both support SDG 9's objectives of inclusive and sustainable industrialization and innovation.
SDG 16: Sturdy Institutions, Peace, and Justice In order to improve digital security resilience, prevent cybercrimes, and fortify cybersecurity defenses, ethical hacking is essential. Encouraging cybersecurity awareness, training, and capacity building helps achieve SDG 16's three main objectives: ensuring that everyone has access to justice, fostering peaceful and inclusive societies for sustainable development, and creating inclusive, accountable, and functional institutions at all levels.
SDG 17: Collaboration to Achieve the Goals Cybersecurity experts, organizations, governments, and civil society must work together to combat cyberthreats and guarantee the security of digital networks and infrastructure. SDG 17 aims to promote global partnerships for sustainable development, and efforts in cybersecurity initiatives contribute to this objective by establishing collaborations, information sharing, and collaboration.

Introduction

A steel structure workshop for a Civil Engineering Department serves as an essential facility for hands-on training, research, and project development. This report outlines the design principles, material considerations, structural analysis, and practical aspects of constructing such a workshop.

Objectives

- Provide a functional space for practical learning and experimentation.
- Ensure safety and compliance with relevant building standards.
- Incorporate sustainable and cost-effective design practices.

Site Analysis

Location

The workshop is to be located within the campus of the Civil Engineering Department. The chosen site should be easily accessible, with sufficient space for the construction and future expansion.

Geotechnical Assessment

A thorough geotechnical survey is necessary to understand soil properties and foundation requirements. Factors such as soil bearing capacity, water table level, and potential seismic activity must be considered.

Material Properties

Steel Selection

- Grade: Choose appropriate steel grades (e.g., ASTM A36, A992) based on strength, ductility, and weldability.
- Corrosion Resistance: Use galvanization or weathering steel for increased durability in various environmental conditions.

Sustainability

Incorporate recycled steel to enhance sustainability. Consider the life cycle of materials and design for disassembly to facilitate future recycling.

Design Standards and Codes

American Institute of Steel Construction (AISC)

AISC standards will guide the design, fabrication, and erection of the workshop structure, ensuring compliance with safety and performance requirements.

Local Building Codes

Adhere to local building regulations and codes, which may include fire safety, accessibility, and environmental impact considerations.

Structural Analysis and Design Principles

Load Considerations

- Dead Loads: Weight of the structural elements, roofing, flooring, and permanent fixtures.
- Live Loads: Loads from equipment, machinery, and occupants. Consider dynamic loads from moving machinery.

- Environmental Loads: Wind, snow, and seismic forces based on local climatic and geological data.

Structural Elements

- Frame: Use a portal frame structure for wide, open spaces without intermediate columns, enhancing flexibility for various activities.
- Beams and Columns: Design beams and columns to carry and transfer loads efficiently. Optimize cross-sectional dimensions to balance strength and material economy.
- Roof Trusses: Implement trusses to support the roof while minimizing material usage and weight.
- Foundations: Design foundations to accommodate the soil bearing capacity and load distribution.

Connections

- Bolted Connections: Use high-strength bolts for ease of assembly and future modification.
- Welded Connections: Where necessary, implement welded connections for strength and rigidity, especially in critical load-bearing areas.

Design Methods

Load and Resistance Factor Design (LRFD)

Adopt LRFD methodology to ensure a robust safety margin by applying factors to account for uncertainties in loads and material strengths.

Practical Considerations

Constructability

- Prefabrication: Utilize prefabricated steel components to streamline the construction process and reduce on-site labor.
- Erection Plan: Develop a detailed erection plan to ensure safe and efficient assembly of the steel structure.

Fire Protection

Implement fire protection measures such as intumescent coatings and fireproof cladding to maintain structural integrity during a fire.

Ventilation and Lighting

Design for natural ventilation and lighting to create a comfortable working environment and reduce energy consumption. Incorporate skylights and large windows where feasible.

Detailed Design Process

Initial Planning

- Needs Assessment: Identify the specific requirements of the workshop, including space allocation for different activities (e.g., welding, material testing, storage).
- Conceptual Design: Develop initial layouts and architectural plans, including the positioning of structural elements and access points.

Structural Analysis

- Modeling: Create a detailed structural model using software like SAP2000 or ETABS to simulate loads and stresses.
- Load Calculations: Perform detailed calculations for dead, live, and environmental loads.
- Design Optimization: Iterate the design to optimize material usage while meeting all safety and performance criteria.

Final Design

- Detailed Drawings: Prepare comprehensive drawings for all structural components, connections, and foundations.
- Specifications: Compile detailed specifications for materials, fabrication, and construction processes.

Construction

- Fabrication: Manufacture steel components as per detailed designs and specifications.
- Erection: Assemble the steel structure on-site, following the erection plan and ensuring compliance with safety protocols.
- Inspection: Conduct thorough inspections at each stage of construction to verify adherence to design and quality standards.

Details of Participants B.A. English semester 1,3 & 5

Objective:

The Expert Session was arranged for the students to enlighten them about the world of books and different dynamics that will go into reviewing the literature. To know about different genres of literature, sitting in the library itself, helped to set the mood. The aim to arrange this session was to brief the students about the interesting process of identifying the work, knowing about different parameters and reviewing the text.

Dr Sheetal Tank, Head, Library delivered this session in a lucid manner wherein she interacted with the students about their interests and the modern day literature in general. The expert not only shared the process of review but also suggested some very useful websites and applications. The students learnt about the techniques which they will implement in the coming days.

Objective:

This activity aims to improve students' pronunciation accuracy and expand their vocabulary, enabling them to use new words correctly in various contexts. By enhancing listening skills and promoting self-monitoring for pronunciation and vocabulary use, the activity builds confidence and fluency in speaking. Through interactive and engaging exercises, participants will also improve their overall communication skills and gain cultural awareness of language nuances. Ultimately, the activity fosters effective and clear communication while making learning enjoyable and memorable.

This class activity was due on 26 August 2022 at Language Lab (109) for the students of B.A. (English) programme. There were 23 students participated of the above class and the duration was one hour i.e. 10 AM to 11 AM.

The class activity was conducted by Mr Nilesh A Helaiya who discussed about pronunciations and vocabularies of English. Each student participated enthusiastically and interacted with the faculty member. And the students found the activity innovative since there were several examples to each topic i.e. pronunciation and vocabulary. The students just came to know by the example word 'use' as they always pronounced as /ju:z/ though it is a verb or a noun, so the faculty member enlightened the students that this word is pronounced as /ju:s/ when it is a noun and /ju:z/ when it is a verb.

Let us now take an example from English vocabulary such as "Indian summer", this means "a pleasant period of time (though late) wherein everything is successful". The students found this example very interesting and useful as well.

Objective:

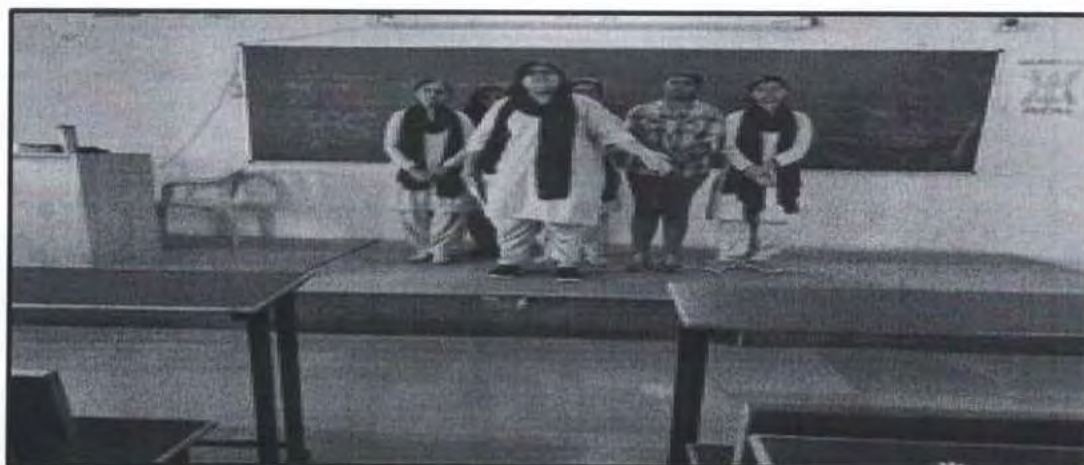

The activity was planned mainly to familiarize the new students of semester 1 of BA English to the other students of senior semester through interactions. The familiarity among the students will prove to be meaningful as they get a chance to develop their relationship which can be extremely necessary for further study in coming years.

At the beginning of the activity, the students were divided into the groups of 5-6. A creative advertisement with a very innovative idea was shown. The task given to the students was to make one such clever and unique advertisement with all the details and was supposed to explain their idea to the other groups. After rigorous discussion among their groups, the students managed to come up with certain out of the box ideas which they got to explain the other students.

In nutshell, it proved to be an activity with a productive outcome. Especially, the explanation part of the activity helped them get rid of stage fear. The students not only enjoyed the process of forming an innovative idea but also presented some fresh and creative concepts for advertisements.

Ignite Session - 25

Date:26-07-2022

Cluster:Cluster 1

Student speaker: Mr. Miraj Sankdecha, Mr. Aayush Sojitra, Miss. Bhakti Hirpara

Topic: Agriculture Problem and solution : CtoP

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
SDG 1: No Poverty: Rural poverty is frequently a result of agricultural issues include low production, restricted access to resources, and market restrictions. Eradicating poverty can be aided by putting into practice strategies that increase agricultural output, expand smallholder farmers' access to markets, and support inclusive rural development (SDG 1).	 The logo for SDG 1, 'No Poverty', is a red square. It features the number '1' in the top left corner, followed by the text 'NO POVERTY'. Below the text is a white icon of a family consisting of two adults and two children.
SDG 2: Zero Hunger: Crop failures, post-harvest losses, and food insecurity are among the agricultural issues that impede attempts to attain appropriate nutrition and food security. Access to wholesome food for all can be ensured with the support of solutions that center on crop variety, sustainable agricultural practices, better input and distribution networks, and increased availability of technology and inputs (SDG 2).	 The logo for SDG 2, 'Zero Hunger', is an orange square. It features the number '2' in the top left corner, followed by the text 'ZERO HUNGER'. Below the text is a white icon of a bowl with three wavy lines above it, representing steam or food.
SDG 3: Good Health and Well-Being: Adverse effects on human health can result from agricultural issues such as pesticide use, soil deterioration, and water contamination. Improving water management, decreasing chemical inputs, and promoting agroecological practices are all ways to improve health and well-being (SDG 3).	 The logo for SDG 3, 'Good Health and Well-Being', is a green square. It features the number '3' in the top left corner, followed by the text 'GOOD HEALTH AND WELL-BEING'. Below the text is a white icon of a heart with a pulse line passing through it.
SDG 6: Clean Water and Sanitation: Water scarcity, pollution, and ecosystem degradation can result from ineffective water management techniques, which are a major consumer of freshwater resources in agriculture. The goal of SDG 6—ensuring the availability and sustainable management of water and sanitation for all—can be attained in part by implementing solutions that support watershed management, effective irrigation practices, and sustainable water usage.	 The logo for SDG 6, 'Clean Water and Sanitation', is a blue square. It features the number '6' in the top left corner, followed by the text 'CLEAN WATER AND SANITATION'. Below the text is a white icon of a water drop falling into a glass, with a downward arrow below the glass.

SDG 12: Responsible Consumption and Production: Unsustainable agricultural methods, such as monoculture farming, excessive food waste, and chemical input abuse, exacerbate resource depletion and environmental deterioration. Solutions that support resource efficiency, decrease food waste, and advance sustainable agriculture can help achieve SDG 12—responsible consumption and production.
SDG 13: Climate Action: Agriculture is impacted by climate change and plays a role in it. Solutions like agroforestry, conservation agriculture, and climate-smart farming practices can help mitigate these effects and build resilience to climate change. Agricultural problems like deforestation, soil erosion, and greenhouse gas emissions exacerbate the impacts of climate change (SDG 13).

The poster for IGNITE Session 24 features a dark red background with white and gold text. At the top left is the Atmiya University logo. The title 'Ignite' is in a large, bold, white font, with the tagline 'Atmiya - Innovate - Empower' below it. The topics are listed in a vertical column: 'Magnificent Mushrooms', 'Poly-Fuel', and 'Microbes from Mother'. To the right of each topic is a circular portrait of a speaker. The speakers are Mr. Vaishwik Tank (Biotechnology, B.Sc. (Sem 5) Atmiya University), Mr. Bhavya M. Parmar (Biotechnology, B.Sc. (Sem 5) Atmiya University), and Mr. Ojas Nimsarkar (Microbiology, B.Sc. Brief introduction about the various topics presented –

1. Magnificent Mushrooms

Presented by: - Mr. Vaishwaik Tank (B.Sc. Sem-V, Biotech.)

Walking through the forest, it's easiest to pay attention to what is happening at eye level and above. Birds, sunlight, wind, branches, there's a lot to observe. Next time you're exploring a forest, consider what lies below the soil, underneath the forest floor, intertwined with the roots of the trees, is a fascinating microscopic network of fungus (Woodwide Web). Mushrooms are the principal source of naturally occurring psychedelics. The mushroom extract, psilocybin has historically been used as a psychedelic agent for religious and spiritual ceremonies, as well as a therapeutic option for neuropsychiatric conditions.

2. Poly-Fuel

Presented by: - Mr. Bhavya M. Parmar (B.Sc. Sem-V, Biotech.)

Poly-fuel an approach to apprehend the rising plastic crisis. Now a day's plastic becomes an important part of our daily life. Starting from the morning toothbrush to night dinner plates. Some municipal corporations are started the recycling of plastics in Maharashtra. They convert plastic waste into fuel. One of the industries in Pune, Rudra Environmental Solution (India) Ltd. started the manufacturing of the plants for plastic recycling to convert the plastic waste into fuel.

3. Microbes From Mothers

Presented by: - Mr. Ojas Nimsarkar (B.Sc. Sem-V, Microbiology)

The infant microbiome plays an essential role in human health and its assembly is determined by maternal– offspring exchanges of microbiota. This process is affected by several practices, including Cesarean section (C-section), perinatal antibiotics, and formula feeding that have been linked to increased risks of metabolic and immune diseases.

The Session was attended by - Dr. G. D. Acharya, Dr. Shweta Bhatt, Dr. Chitra Bhattacharya, Dr. Mousumi Das and 156 students including participants and mentioned dignitaries.

Student Speaker Mr. Vaishvik Tank's Father Attended the session.

Topic: Magnificent Mushrooms SDG

goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
SDG 2: Zero Hunger: Packed with protein, fiber, vitamins, and minerals, mushrooms are a nutrient-dense food source. By enhancing food security and nutrition, initiatives can support SDG 2 by encouraging the growth and consumption of mushrooms, especially in regions where malnutrition is common.
SDG 3: Good Health and Well-Being: Because of their potential health advantages, mushrooms are utilized in traditional medicine due to their medicinal qualities. By encouraging health and wellbeing, research into the effects of mushrooms on health as well as their usage in medications helps advance SDG 3.
SDG 12: Responsible Consumption and Production: Growing mushrooms is a sustainable agricultural practice that uses less energy, water, and land than other types of farming. Encouraging sustainable methods for growing mushrooms can be in line with SDG 12 by SDG 13: Climate Action: Since mushrooms may be cultivated on agricultural waste products like sawdust, straw, or composted materials, mushroom farming can be environmentally sustainable. This approach can support SDG 13 by lowering greenhouse gas emissions and fostering climate resilience.
SDG 15: Life on Land: Decomposition and nutrient cycle mechanisms in particular depend heavily on mushrooms for the proper operation of ecosystems. In order to support SDG 15's goals of biodiversity preservation and ecosystem protection, sustainable forest management and conservation techniques that safeguard mushroom habitats should be encouraged.
SDG 17: Collaboration to Achieve the Goals Governments, corporations, research institutes, and communities must work together to advance mushroom cultivating techniques, advance research, and scale up projects. Partnerships can help with capacity growth, technology transfer, and information sharing to

Student speaker:Mr. Parmar M. Bhavya

Topic: Poly-Fuel

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
SDG 7: Affordable and Clean Energy: In order to produce electricity or power cars, poly-fuel systems usually combine non-renewable and renewable energy sources. The goal of SDG 7 is to ensure that everyone has access to modern, affordable, sustainable, and dependable energy. Poly-fuel helps achieve this goal by encouraging the use of cleaner and more economical energy sources.
SDG 9: Infrastructure, Industry, and Innovation: Innovation in infrastructure development and energy generation is a component of poly-fuel technology. Along with SDG 9, countries can advance infrastructure development and sustainable industrialization by expanding research, development, and deployment of poly-fuel systems.
SDG 12: Responsible Consumption and Production: By maximizing the use of several fuel sources, cutting waste, and boosting energy efficiency, poly-fuel systems can promote responsible consumption and production. Poly-fuel advances sustainable energy methods, which helps achieve SDG 12's aim of guaranteeing sustainable patterns of production and consumption.
SDG 13: Climate Action: By combining traditional fossil fuels with renewable energy sources like solar, wind, or biomass, poly-fuel technology might potentially lower greenhouse gas emissions. SDG 13 calls for immediate action to combat climate change and its effects, and poly-fuel helps achieve this objective by reducing the effects of climate change and encouraging the use of renewable energy sources.
SDG 17: Collaboration to Achieve the Goals Governments, businesses, academic institutions, and communities must work together to advance poly-fuel technologies and increase the rate of adoption. Stakeholders can expedite the shift towards more sustainable energy systems and support the overarching objectives of the 2030 Agenda for Sustainable Development by promoting partnerships and cooperation at the local, national, and international levels.

Topic: Microbes from Mother

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
SDG 3: Well-being and Good Health: An infant's microbiome is formed by microbes that are transferred from the mother during birthing and nursing, and this microbiome is critical to the development of the immune system and general health. SDG 3 can be attained by supporting behaviors that enhance the health of mothers and infants, such as breastfeeding and natural childbirth
SDG 2: No Hunger A vital part of early childhood nutrition, breastfeeding involves the transfer of healthy bacteria from mother to child and can lower the risk of malnutrition and food poverty. The objectives of SDG 2—ending hunger, achieving food security, enhancing nutrition, and advancing sustainable agriculture—align with supporting breastfeeding habits.
SDG 6: Clean Water and Sanitation: Promoting mother and newborn health and halting the spread of pathogenic microorganisms depend on ensuring access to clean water and sanitation facilities. SDG 6 can be attained through initiatives to enhance the infrastructure for water and sanitation as well as hygiene standards.
SDG 10: Reduced Inequalities: Mothers and infants' health outcomes can be made less unequal by having access to maternal healthcare services, such as prenatal care, birthing support, and breastfeeding education. The promotion of fair access to healthcare services can aid in the accomplishment of SDG 10.
SDG 5: Gender Equality: By enabling women to make knowledgeable decisions about their caregiving obligations and reproductive health, supporting breastfeeding and maternal health practices can help achieve gender equality. Encouraging women's health and wellbeing is consistent with SDG 5, which aims to empower all women and girls and achieve gender equality.

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
SDG 3: Encouraging Towns and Communities Encouraging breastfeeding-friendly surroundings in public areas, businesses, and communities can help build more sustainable and healthful cities and neighborhoods. Encouraging breastfeeding moms through sufficient accommodations and assistance is in line with SDG 11's objective of transforming cities and human settlements into inclusive, secure, resilient, and sustainable environments

ABOUT THE EVENT:

World Environment Day 2022 was celebrated under the theme of "Ecosystem Restoration" with the slogan "Reimagine. Recreate. Restore." The day aimed to raise awareness and promote action towards restoring damaged and degraded ecosystems around the world.

The year 2022 was particularly important as it marked the beginning of the United Nations Decade on Ecosystem Restoration (2021-2030), which aims to mobilize governments, organizations, and individuals to prevent, halt, and reverse the degradation of ecosystems.

The day was celebrated through various activities and events organized by governments, NGOs, and individuals worldwide. Many countries organized tree planting events and clean-up campaigns to restore damaged ecosystems and raise awareness about the importance of ecosystem restoration. Several organizations also launched campaigns to encourage individuals to take action towards restoring ecosystems in their communities.

The United Nations Environment Program (UNEP) also launched a global campaign called "Generation Restoration" to mobilize young people around the world to become active in ecosystem restoration. The campaign aimed to empower youth to take action and create a sustainable future for all.

The World Environment Day 2022 celebrations highlighted the urgent need for ecosystem restoration and encouraged individuals and organizations to take action towards protecting and restoring the natural environment. It also provided an opportunity to recognize the critical role that healthy ecosystems play in sustaining life on earth, promoting climate resilience and providing livelihoods for millions of people worldwide.

The session was delivered by Mustafa Bharmal, Yash Parmar, Dev Ghetiya & Darshan Javiya from Computer Engineering Department. The presentation was about the roadmap to get placed in companies like Facebook, Apple, Amazon, Netflix, Google, etc. Everyone wants to work in MNC's but students should do systematic planning of what is to be learnt during 4 years of Engineering to land up for best placements in MNC's. What all programming languages one needs to learn and internships etc should be planned and executed right from 1st year of Engineering and gradually followed through 2nd, 3rd and 4th year of graduation. It was a very informative session. The Session was attended by Dr. G.D Acharya, Mrs. Parul Mandaviya, Mr. Jay Patel, Mr. Yuvraj Kachva & Mr. Milan Narendra Gohel and 53 students from Computer Engineering Department.

Topic:Roadmap To be Followed During Engineering

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
SDG 9: Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure: Innovation and technical breakthroughs are fueled by engineering and are necessary for the development of sustainable infrastructure and industrialization. When it comes to creating robust, inclusive, and sustainable infrastructure, engineers are essential.
SDG 7: Affordable and sustainable Energy: Engineers help develop energy-efficient technology, sustainable energy solutions, and renewable energy sources. Engineers support sustainable development by assisting in the expansion of inexpensive and clean energy access through research, design, and implementation.
SDG 6: Clean Water and Sanitation: Developing water treatment systems, enhancing water quality, and guaranteeing access to reasonably priced drinking water and sanitary facilities all depend on engineering know-how.
SDG 12: Responsible Consumption and Production: By creating goods, procedures, and frameworks that reduce waste, save resources, and advance the ideas of the circular economy, engineering practices may support responsible consumption and production.
SDG 16: Peace, Justice, and Strong Institutions: By encouraging openness, responsibility, and sound governance in infrastructure projects and the provision of public services, engineering may aid in the growth of strong institutions.

SDG 15: Life on Land: Through initiatives including habitat restoration, reforestation, and sustainable agricultural methods, engineers support the conservation of biodiversity, sustainable land management, and land restoration.
SDG 8: Decent Work and Economic Growth: By promoting entrepreneurship, incentivizing innovation, and enhancing infrastructure and productivity, engineering projects boost economic growth and generate job opportunities.
SDG 11: Sustainable Cities and Communities: By developing buildings, transportation networks, and infrastructure that minimize environmental effect, foster resilience, and improve resident quality of life, engineers help to create sustainable urban environments.
SDG 13: Climate Action: By creating cutting-edge technology for carbon capture, renewable energy, and climate adaptation, engineers play a crucial part in combating climate change.

- The challenges in the implementation of sustainability in many areas such as: no or limited alternatives for the current scenario, copying the ideas of developed countries without realizing our own circumstances, situations and resources.
- He rightly pointed out that sustainability means taking into consideration the social, economic and environmental aspects. The integration of these three only will lead to true sustainability.

- According to sir, the conference was the platform for the upcoming researchers to allow themselves to share their learning and to broaden their research by being open to new ideas and perspectives. And also a platform for introspection where we track our progress and realized the areas where we can improve.
- For Atmiya University, the concept of sustainability is more relevant as it has been practicing sustainability in various aspects.
- Keeping it very short, sir congratulated the organizing team, partnering universities and all the enthusiastic participants for the support they have shown.

➤ Valedictory Address: Dr. Pooran Chandra Pandey

- He expressed his appreciation for organizing the conference at such a time when addressing the issue of environment and sustainability has become a major concern.
- His talk mainly revolved around the idea of how people and the Planet are the main two pillars on which everything is based. Taking these two for granted will lead to the downfall of human society.
- Mentioning the Stockholm Conference -1972, he made it a point that with the healthy Planet will come the prosperity. It becomes the topmost priority for all to preserve planet Earth as people have already started seeing the negative effects of the overconsumption of resources that we have.
- He firmly believes that the education given to the younger minds should be inclusive of not just the information but also the moral values and the idea of preserving nature and the Planet.
- Changing the mindset and change in the lifestyle will certainly contribute positively in making the Planet healthy and in the sustainability.

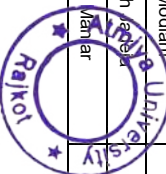

Vote of Thanks: Dr. Manhar Kagathara, Associate Dean, School of Diploma Studies

A Report on Ignite Session 19

Topic – 1. BIOENGINEERED ORGANS

2. FECAL MICROBIOTA TRANSPLANT

Organized by: CSCI & Department of Microbiology & Biotechnology

Ignite Cluster – 2 Technology

Date: 27th April, 2022

Time: 10:00 am to 11:00 am

Venue: Seminar Hall, Room No. 425, Main Building, Atmiya University.

Chief –Convener: Mr. G. D. Acharya

Convener: Ms. Parul Mandaviya

Co Convener: Dr. Shweta Bhatt

No. of participants: 87

Objective:

IGNITE Session was organized by Atmiya University for the students under the banner of Institutions Innovation Council on 27th April, 2022. It was organized by CSCI – Team Ignite in association with Department of Biotechnology and Microbiology.

Objectives of the program

- To disseminate the knowledge/Information acquired by the students by attending various Student Development Programs, Workshops, Seminars/Webinars regarding new development in the field of academics as well as latest emerging technologies and development in the industry among fellow students.
- Exploring new avenues which includes passion, fun & excitement areas.
- Improving Communication Skills, Presentation Skills, Public speaking skills and leadership skills thereby increasing confidence level in them.
- To encourage peer learning activities and knowledge sharing among Interdisciplinary and Trans-disciplinary students.

Brief introduction about the Topic – The first topic Bioengineered organs applies engineering techniques on living system or organisms. Bioengineered organ production is carried out in 2 steps; decellularisation and recellularisation. A desired organ is extracted from organism and decellularised using certain detergents and chemicals then a scaffold is available in which cells are inserted and allowed to grow and divide in certain required condition. Then the organ is prepared and transfer to the patient.

The next topic is fecal microbiota transplant, it is one type of bacteriotherapy. In this therapy transfer the stool sample from healthy donor into gastro intestinal tract for the purpose of treating clostridiumdifficile. By this therapy cure the mostly abdominal disease it also cures the advance cancer, and current pandemic disease covid-19 also. Due to the fecal microbiota transplant technique overall cure rate is 90%. For this transplantation a healthy friend and relatives are ideal donor.

The Session was attended by Dr. G.D. Acharya, Ms. Parul Mandaviya, Dr. Shweta Bhatt, Dr. Apexa Patadiya, Mr. Paras Kalariya and Faculty members of Department of Biotechnology And Microbiology. Total 85 students are participated.

Ignite Session - 19.1

Date:27-04-2022

Cluster: Cluster 2

Student speaker:Ms.Chavda Udit

Topic: Bioengineered Organs

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
Objective 3: Optimal Health and Welfare: Bioengineered organs present a possible avenue to mitigate organ scarcity and enhance patient results. Bioengineered organs can help achieve SDG 3 by offering alternatives to traditional organ transplantation that can improve quality of life, save lives, and lessen the burden of chronic diseases.
Objective 9: Infrastructure, Innovation, and Industry: Advanced biotechnology, tissue engineering, and regenerative medicine innovations are needed to build bioengineered organs. Bioengineered organs support SDG 9 by promoting technical innovation, industrial growth, and infrastructure development through research and development in these areas.
Goal 10: Decreased Inequalities: By offering more accessible and reasonably priced treatment alternatives, bioengineered organs have the potential to decrease disparities in healthcare access. Bioengineered organs can serve SDG 10 by decreasing healthcare disparities and improving healthcare fairness by lowering reliance on limited donor organs and lowering the chance of organ rejection.
Objective 11: Ecological Towns and Cities Because they decrease the need for donor organs and the related healthcare expenses of organ transplantation, bioengineered organs aid in the establishment of sustainable healthcare systems. Bioengineered organs serve SDG 11 by advancing resilient and healthy communities through improved patient outcomes and sustainable medical practices.
Goal 17: Collaborating to Achieve the Goals: The area of bioengineered organs must advance through cooperation between governments, academic institutions, healthcare providers, and industry partners. Stakeholders can support SDG 17 by accelerating research and development activities, facilitating technology transfer, and promoting the adoption of bioengineered organs worldwide through partnerships and knowledge-sharing initiatives.

Ignite Session - 19.2

Cluster: Cluster 2

Student speaker: Ms. Bhargavi Joshi

Topic: Fecal Microbiota Transplant

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
Objective 3: Optimal Health and Well-Being: FMT has demonstrated encouraging outcomes in the management of recurrent Clostridium difficile infection (CDI) as well as other gastrointestinal disorders. FMT can help achieve SDG 3 by reducing symptoms, promoting better digestive health, and improving general well-being by reestablishing the balance of gut bacteria.
Goal 6: Clean Water and Sanitation: Since FMT lessens the need for continuous antibiotic usage, which can lead to the release of antibiotic residues into water systems and the development of antibiotic resistance, it may indirectly affect SDG 6. As an alternative to antibiotics for CDI, FMT contributes to the fight against antimicrobial resistance and the advancement of sustainable water and sanitation policies.
Goal 10: Reduced inequalities: By offering a successful CDI treatment that is affordable for a variety of patients, FMT has the potential to decrease health inequities. FMT supports fair access to healthcare and helps reduce health disparities by providing an alternate treatment option for people who do not react to conventional medicines. This aligns with SDG 10.
Goal 17: Collaborating to Achieve the Goals: Promoting the use of FMT as a medical therapy requires cooperation between researchers, regulatory bodies, patient advocacy organizations, and healthcare practitioners. Stakeholders can support SDG 17 by accelerating research, establishing guidelines for clinical practice, and promoting the safe

Ignite Session - 18

Date:12-04-2022

Cluster:Cluster 1

Student speaker:Mr. Dinesh Talwadker

Topic: BlockChain Technology

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
Goal9: Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure: By facilitating the creation of new business models and decentralized applications, blockchain promotes innovation. By enabling safe and transparent data transactions, it may transform sectors like finance, supply chain management, and healthcare and support long-term industrialization and infrastructure growth.
Goal 11: Sustainable Cities and Communities: Blockchain technology can help advance sustainable urban development, strengthen public service transparency, and enhance urban management systems. Smart contracts and decentralized governance platforms are examples of applications that can improve city and community resilience and efficiency by streamlining public utility, land registration, and property management procedures.
Goal 13: Climate Action: By providing transparent and traceable supply chains for renewable energy and carbon credits, blockchain technology has the potential to ease the transition to a low-carbon economy. It can help with climate mitigation efforts by improving greenhouse gas emission tracking and reporting, supporting trading platforms for renewable energy, and providing incentives for sustainable practices.
Objective 16: Sturdy Institutions, Peace, and Justice: Contributing to SDG 16, blockchain technology fosters accountability, transparency, and confidence in governance institutions. Stronger institutions and the advancement of the rule of law can be achieved through its facilitation of safe and impenetrable voting systems, open procurement procedures, and unchangeable record-keeping in areas like identity management and legal paperwork.
Goal 17: Collaborating to Achieve the Goals: To fully utilize blockchain technology, stakeholders must cooperate with one another. Maximizing the impact of blockchain in reaching the SDGs can be achieved through facilitating knowledge-sharing, standards creation, and capacity-building activities through public-private partnerships, industry consortia, and multi-stakeholder initiatives.

Ignite Session - 15.1

Date:23-03-2022

Cluster: Cluster 1

Student speaker:Ms. Birva A. Dave Topic:
Artificial Intelligence and Space

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
Goal 9: Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure: By enhancing navigation systems, streamlining spacecraft designs, and evaluating enormous volumes of data gathered from satellites and space missions, artificial intelligence (AI) technologies play a critical role in furthering space exploration. AI-driven space technology advancements support the aerospace industry's innovation and help build the infrastructure needed for space exploration.
Goal 13: Climate Action: Applications of AI based in space are essential for tracking and comprehending climate change. Artificial intelligence (AI)-enabled satellites can measure environmental changes, track deforestation, examine weather trends, and evaluate ecosystem health, all of which provide important information for climate action projects.
Objective 14: Submerged Life and Goal 15: Life on Land: AI technologies based in space help monitor and preserve both marine and terrestrial ecosystems. By detecting environmental concerns like illegal fishing, habitat damage, and deforestation, satellite images and AI algorithms enhance efforts to conserve biodiversity both on land and in the ocean.
Goal 17: Collaborating to Achieve the Goals: Leveraging AI technology in space exploration requires cooperation between space agencies, research institutes, governments, and private sector businesses. In order to address global concerns like climate change, environmental monitoring, and sustainable development, partnerships promote the sharing of data, the exchange of experience, and cooperative actions.

Ignite Session - 15.2

Student speaker:Ms. Nafisa K. Musani Topic:

Artificial Intelligence and Underwater

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
Goal 14: Life Below Water: Artificial intelligence (AI) technologies have a big role to play in the preservation and long-term management of marine ecosystems. For example, AI-driven underwater drones and driverless vehicles can track marine pollution, identify illicit fishing, monitor marine biodiversity, and evaluate coral reef health. AI helps with efforts to save habitats, conserve marine life, and accomplish SDG 14 by offering insightful information about underwater surroundings.
Objective 9: Infrastructure, Innovation, and Industry: Underwater research and exploration infrastructure development is aided by advancements in AI-driven technology. Data collecting, mapping, and resource exploration can be carried out more effectively and economically with the use of autonomous underwater vehicles fitted with artificial intelligence systems. In line with SDG 9, these technologies support sustainable infrastructure development and encourage innovation in the maritime sector.
Goal 13: Climate Action: Artificial intelligence applications in submerged environments support efforts to mitigate and adapt to climate change. AI systems, for instance, are able to evaluate information gathered from underwater sensors to track the temperature, acidity, and absorption of carbon dioxide in the ocean. This data supports SDG 13 by assisting scientists in their understanding of how climate change affects marine ecosystems and in the development of adaptation and mitigation strategies.
Goal 15: Life on Land: The conservation of biodiversity and terrestrial ecosystems are benefited by AI technology in underwater habitats. Artificial Intelligence plays a role in preserving integrated terrestrial and marine ecosystems by monitoring marine biodiversity and ecosystems. In line with SDG 15, preserving marine biodiversity promotes food security, ecological balance, and the lives of coastal populations.
Goal 17: Collaborating to Achieve the Goals: Leveraging AI technologies in underwater environments requires cooperation between governments, academic institutions, non-governmental organizations, and private sector businesses.

Ignite Session - 15.3

Cluster: 1

Student speaker: MS. Hetvi Mehta

Topic: CYBER SECURITY

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
Goal 9: Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure: Building robust digital infrastructure and encouraging innovation in the digital economy depend on cybersecurity measures. Cybersecurity advances sustainable industrialization and technological growth by safeguarding vital infrastructure, including financial systems and telecommunications networks, which is in line with SDG 9.
Objective 4: High-quality Education: Programs that raise awareness of cybersecurity and educate people about it enable people and organizations to defend themselves against threats and weaknesses that arise online. Cybersecurity measures complement SDG 4 by fostering digital literacy and responsible online behavior, which in turn leads to high-quality education and possibilities for lifelong learning.
Goal 8: Decent Work and Economic Growth: Promoting economic growth and generating job opportunities require a dependable and safe digital environment. SDG 8 is aligned with cybersecurity measures that assist businesses in safeguarding their assets, upholding customer trust, and facilitating digital transformation
Objective 16: Peace, Justice, and Robust Institutions: Ensuring cybersecurity is essential to preserving peace, stability, and security in the digital sphere. Cybersecurity measures assist SDG 16 by preventing cyberattacks, data breaches, and online crimes. They also help to strengthen institutions and advance the rule of law in cyberspace.
Goal 17: Collaborating to Achieve the Goals: To improve cybersecurity capabilities and handle global cybersecurity concerns, cooperation between governments, businesses, academic institutions, and civil society organizations is crucial. In line with SDG 17, partnerships enable information exchange, capacity building, and cooperative projects targeted at strengthening cybersecurity resilience and fostering a safe and secure digital environment.

18/03/2022	It's an exceptional way for students to engage in active learning and develop sufficient science literacy Students gain confidence and crucial presentation skills Students are able to network with their peers who have similar interests

PROJECT FAIR 2022

2. Aim of Project Fair.

- Faculty of Engineering & Technology organized session of "Project Fair" on 18th March 2022 in Atmiya University for the 6th semester students in Computer Engineering Department courses.
- The science fair helps students develop important research skills which will continue to benefit them no matter what career/occupation they end up pursuing. The science fair contributes to a student's social development and presentation skills. Hands-on or applied learning also enhances non-science-specific skills, such as project management and communication.
- The public competition aspect of the science fair fosters excitement for scientific inquiry. Mentoring science fair projects is a valuable way to contribute to your school and community.
- Another crucial piece of science fairs is the actual research process often conducted in a lab. Thinking scientifically is simple to imagine in school. Yet it takes on a much different meaning when you are initiating the project from start to finish. The experience of devising an experiment, evaluating results and coming up with a conclusion is not something that all students get. For me, getting the chance to work in research setting with competent and experienced researchers made the process of taking on a science fair project much easier. I learned a lot not just about solar cells, but also about the different processes used to create different sources of energy. Even though my research focused on dye-sensitized solar cells, I gained a great appreciation for the entire energy market and for the scope of the challenges facing solar energy to become viable. The ability to participate in research, connect with experienced researchers and gain an appreciation for science in the context of the bigger picture are all benefits from participating in science fairs that are nearly impossible to find elsewhere.
- Through this program students have able to learnt about different exams and enhanced their skill as below Concepts:
 - The project fair program facilitates skills that are essential in preparation for undergraduate and graduate degrees, including academic writing, verbal, written and public communication, and problem-solving skill

WEBINAR ON CYBER SECURITY

2. Aim of Cyber Security Session.

- Faculty of Engineering & Technology organized session of “Cyber Security” on 22nd February 2022 in Atmiya University for the 4th semester students in Computer Engineering Department courses.
- Beginning with the obvious, cybersecurity training makes your business more secure. Making your team at large aware of the many threats that exist – from data breaches to ransomware – will keep them from making simple mistakes that could threaten the safety of your organization.
- Companies that have not trained their employees often face data theft and data loss due to carelessness. Data recovery or saving other consequences requires lots of money and time. It also tampers with the brand image of the company for a certain time, which can affect the target audience and their thought process around the brand. If sources are to be believed, any sort of data recovery requires a minimum of 7 months to trace the IP address and the main address of the hosted email id. Hence, recovering from a successful cyberattack could cost approximately $955,429 or more.
- Cyber Security session was started through how basic Skill requirements in Engineering 4 years. Various activities covered in following days as below by CE Department Faculties.
- Through this program students have able to learnt about different exams and enhanced their skill as below Concepts:
 - Training for Avoiding Blunders
 - Training Increases Security Measures
 - Training Assures Educated Staff to Start Defiance
 - Training Saves Organizational Reputation

In the next session resource persons explain about the characteristics of ENTREPRENEURS. People may lack the personality and skills necessary for successful entrepreneurship. There are some general characteristics and skills that many successful entrepreneurs have:

- Problem-solving: Entrepreneurs often start their businesses after identifying a problem and then coming up with a way to address it. Entrepreneurs are also able to figure out how to solve problems that will occur during the development of the business.
- Innovation: Entrepreneurs are innovators, and are often engaged continuously in the process of conceiving new products and services, renewing and improving current offerings, and developing new business processes.
- Risk-taking: Entrepreneurs are not risk-averse. They are willing to risk their time, money and even their reputation to get the business started and take their products or services to market. Entrepreneurs are also willing to take risks even after they establish a business, developing new products and approaches that can grow their businesses.

ABOUT PROGRAM:

A total station (TS) or total station theodolite (TST) is an electronic/optical instrument used for surveying and building construction. It is an electronic transit theodolite integrated with electronic distance measurement (EDM) to measure both vertical and horizontal angles and the slope distance from the instrument to a particular point, and an on-board computer to collect data and perform triangulation calculations.

Total stations are mainly used by land surveyors and civil engineers, either to record features as in topographic surveying or to set out features (such as roads, houses or boundaries). They are also used by archaeologists to record excavations and by police, crime scene investigators, private accident re-constructionists and insurance companies to take measurements of scenes.

Faculty members of Department of Civil engineering (Diploma and Degree) had participated in FDP and learned various aspects and operation of Total Station through company representative of total station Supplier Company.

OUTCOME OF PROGRAMME

All participants have learned overall operating system of total station for surveying i.e. angle measurement, distance measurement, coordinate measurement, data processing and data collection from the device.

The program aimed to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the principles and practices of management, as well as equip them with the skills and knowledge necessary to succeed in their future careers.

The program was designed to be interactive and engaging, with a mix of lectures, case studies, group discussions, and role-playing activities. The program began with a keynote address by an industry expert who shared insights on the current trends and challenges in the business world. The next session was a workshop on leadership and communication skills, where students were given an opportunity to practice their presentation and communication skills. TITLE OF THE ACTIVITY: "Mesenchymal Stem Cell: A Boon in visual deficiency in traumatic brain injury"

DATE: 16/12/2021

EVENT SCHEDULE: 11.00 to 12.30 PM online

RESOURCE PERSON: Dr. Kumar Abhiram Jha, (Scientist - 1) Stem Cell Division, GIORSTAR, Mohali, Panjab

NO. OF BENEFICIARIES: 64 Students, M.Sc. Microbiology sem III & Faculties- 2

BRIEF SUMMARY:

In his expert talk, Dr. Jha likely explores the potential of mesenchymal stem cells (MSCs) in addressing visual impairments resulting from traumatic brain injury (TBI). Traumatic brain injury can have devastating effects, not only on cognitive functions but also on sensory systems, including vision. Vision problems after TBI can range from mild to severe and may include issues such as blurred vision, double vision, or even complete blindness. Mesenchymal stem cells, with their unique properties of self-renewal and differentiation into various cell types, offer a promising avenue for regenerative medicine in treating TBI-related visual deficits. Dr. Jha may delve into the mechanisms by which MSCs exert their therapeutic effects, such as reducing inflammation, promoting tissue repair, and stimulating neurogenesis. Moreover, Dr. Jha may discuss the challenges and limitations associated with MSC therapy for TBI-related visual impairment, including the need for further research to optimize treatment protocols, ensure safety, and enhance efficacy. Overall, Dr. Kumar Abhiram Jha's expert talk likely sheds light on the exciting potential of mesenchymal stem cell therapy as a boon in addressing visual deficiency in traumatic brain injury, offering hope for improved outcomes and quality of life for TBI patients.

BRIEF SUMMARY:

Dr. Neha Sharma, an Assistant Professor at Amity University, delivered an expert talk on "Chemotherapeutic Agents" on October 9, 2021. The talk discussed the fundamental principles, advancements, and challenges in the field of chemotherapeutic agents. Sharma provided an overview of chemotherapy, its role in cancer treatment, and its mechanism of action. She classified chemotherapeutic agents based on their mode of action, chemical structure, and specificity. Sharma also delved into the intricate mechanisms through which these agents exert their effects on cancer cells, targeting cellular processes such as DNA replication, transcription, and protein synthesis, leading to cell death or inhibition of proliferation.

Dr. Sharma highlighted recent advancements in the development of chemotherapeutic agents, including targeted therapies and immunotherapy. She highlighted the importance of targeted therapies in minimizing off-target effects and improving treatment outcomes. Challenges associated with chemotherapy included drug resistance, adverse effects, and the need for personalized treatment approaches. Sharma emphasized the importance of interdisciplinary research efforts to overcome these challenges.

The presentation was well-received by the audience, who appreciated her clear explanation of complex concepts and ability to relate them to clinical practice. The success of the talk suggests organizing similar expert talks and seminars to foster knowledge exchange and collaboration in oncology and chemotherapy.

From August 16 to 26, 2021, the Faculty of Business and Commerce, Department of Management, Atmiya University, organized a Summer Internship Program (SIP) for its undergraduate students. The two-week program aimed to provide students with a comprehensive understanding of the business environment and equip them with practical skills and knowledge.

The program was designed to bridge the gap between theoretical knowledge and real-world applications, enabling students to develop essential skills such as communication, teamwork, and problem-solving. During the SIP, students were assigned to various companies, where they worked on specific projects and tasks under the guidance of experienced professionals. The internship provided students with an opportunity to gain practical insights into the industry, understand the working styles of professionals, and develop skills such as time management, leadership, and adaptability.

The companies involved in the SIP included leading organizations in the industry, such as banks, financial institutions, and consulting firms. The students' projects were monitored and evaluated by faculty members and industry experts, who provided feedback and guidance throughout the program. The event concluded with a certificate distribution ceremony, where students were awarded certificates for their participation in the SIP.

The program was a huge success, with students reporting positive experiences and valuable learnings from the internship. The SIP was a testament to the university's commitment to providing students with high-quality learning experiences that are relevant to the industry and help them develop professionally.

Ignite Session – 17

Date:11-04-2022

Cluster: Cluster 3

Student speaker:Mr. Jevin thumar,Ms. Akshari Rajani

Topic: Patent as an IPR Tool

SDG goals addressed are:

SDG Goal addressed	Logo
Goal 9: Industry, Innovation, and Infrastructure: By giving inventors temporary exclusivity over their creations, patents encourage innovation. Patents support technical advancement, industry expansion, and investment in R&D by safeguarding intellectual property, all of which are in line with SDG 9.
Objective 8: Decent Work and Economic progress: Patents promote the creation of jobs and the cross-border transfer of technology and information, which promotes economic progress. Patents safeguard inventions and so foster technology licensing contracts, joint ventures, and innovator-business alliances that support decent work and sustainable economic growth, all of which are in line with Sustainable Development Goal 8.
Goal 1: No Poverty: By encouraging business and innovation, patents can help reduce poverty. In keeping with SDG 1, inventors and innovators who get patents for their creations may commercialize their concepts, produce new goods and services, and make money. This allows them to raise themselves and their communities out of poverty.
Objective 3: Optimal Health and Well-Being: Patents are essential for promoting medical innovation and developing innovative healthcare solutions. SDG 3 is aligned with patents protecting pharmaceutical inventions, which encourage research and development of new medications, vaccines, and medical equipment. This leads to better health outcomes and more access to healthcare.
Goal 17: Collaborating to Achieve the Goals: Governments, corporations, academic institutions, and civil society organizations must work together to effectively utilize patents in order to address global issues and advance sustainable development. Stakeholders may enhance the impact of patents in fields including clean energy, environmental conservation, and public health by promoting collaborations and knowledge-sharing efforts, which is in line with SDG 17.

BRIEF SUMMARY:

The E-Poster Competition on Microbial Flora in Different pH of Daily Used Consumables aimed to explore the microbial communities present in everyday items across different pH levels. The competition attracted participants from various academic backgrounds. The themes explored included microbial diversity, pH impact, consumer health implications, and product development. Key findings revealed distinct microbial populations thriving at different pH levels, with acidic environments favoring certain species while inhibiting others. The study also highlighted the importance of effective sterilization and preservation methods in hygiene products and beverages and food products. Several posters showcased innovative solutions to mitigate microbial contamination, such as pH-adjusted formulations, antimicrobial packaging, and natural preservatives. Overall, the competition was a success in fulfilling educational objectives and fostering a deeper understanding of food microbiology.

Introduction of Virtual Creation Workshop

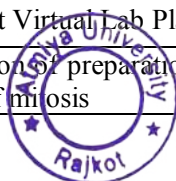

Virtual labs are intended to augment the learning of science with scientific experiments. This program will provide the opportunity for faculties and students to develop their personal and professional skill for creation of virtual lab. This certificate program is a demand of current Covid19 situation to make students acquainted with actual scientific experiments. In this course we explore basic animation for creation of scientific experiment using online tools. Virtual lab provides a complete Learning Management System to avail the various tools for learning, conducting experiments, video-lectures, animated demonstrations and self-evaluation.

Objective of National Level Workshop

1. The main objective of organizing this workshop is to focus on practical application of biological science by an amalgamation of information Technology and Biological Sciences.
2. It's an opportunity, to be in such an interactive e-platform where a direct learner-facilitator communication can be possible for creating a live class room effect.

Day-1 (25th August 2020)

First Day of National Workshop's was beginning with the prayer. Resource person of the day were Dr. Ravi Ranjan Kumar Ravi, Assistant Professor, Department of Biotechnology & Dr. Chitra Bhattacharya, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Microbiology, Atmiya University, Rajkot, Gujarat. Technical session was based on power-point such as shape designing, transition animation, to explaining the principle and procedure of one biological science experiment i.e. Mitosis, so how we can create our own virtual lab practical's through power-point animation. In first day, we had two technical sessions.

In the first technical session, Dr. Ravi Ranjan, explained the principle, procedure of biological science experiment as description of mitosis and given a brief demonstration about how to use motion paths and transition animation into the power-point slide. In another round of technical session two Dr. Chitra Bhattacharya, explained how to insert basic shapes in ppt for the preparation of virtual lab practicals of biological sciences.

Animation

The second type of animations bring the objects or elements within slide to life. If we want to animate text, an image, shape, graph or chart, this is the type of animation we select.

The screenshot shows the PowerPoint Animation ribbon. Annotations include:

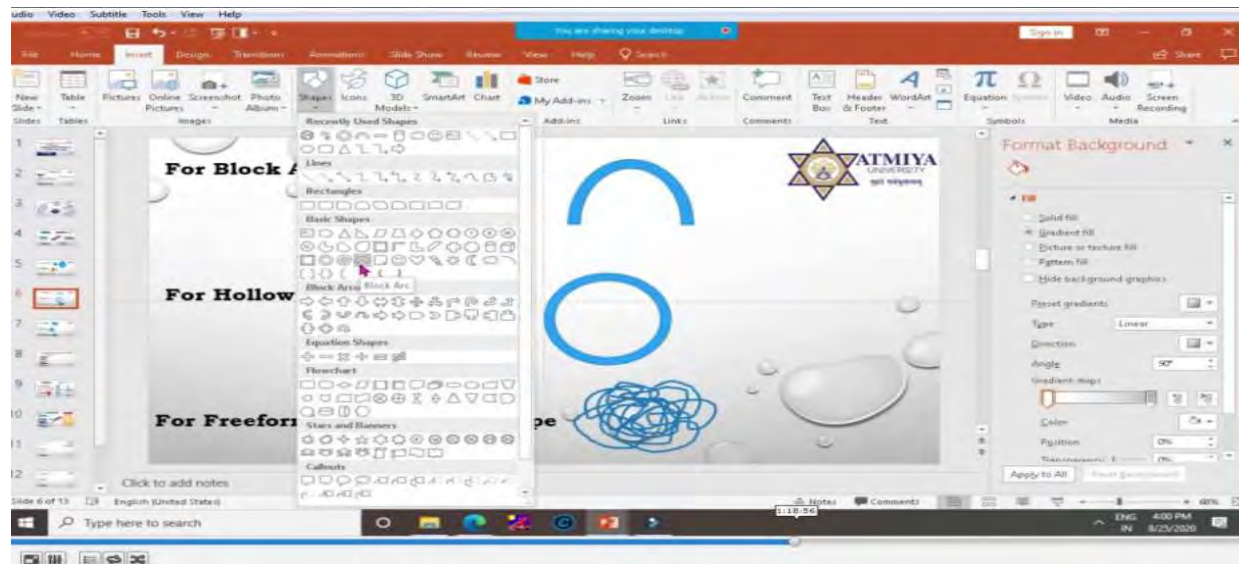

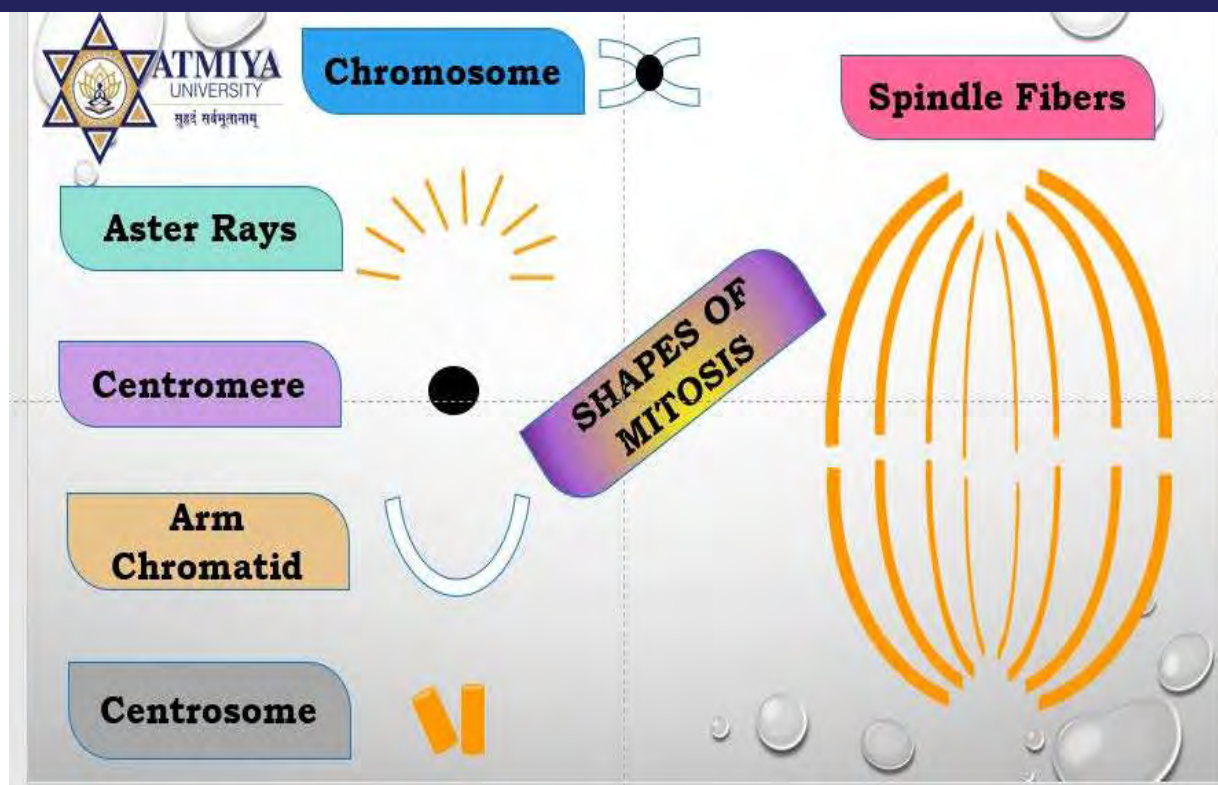

- An arrow pointing to the 'More' icon (three horizontal lines) with the text 'Click here more options'.
- An arrow pointing to the 'Add Animation' button with the text 'Click here Add animation'.
- An arrow pointing to the 'Animation Pane' button with the text 'Regulate animation'.

The screenshot shows the PowerPoint interface with the Animation Pane and Timing task pane open. The Animation Pane on the right lists two animations: 'Cloud 2' and 'Smiley Face 1'. The Timing task pane on the left shows settings for the selected animation: 'On Click', 'Delay: 0 seconds', 'Duration: 2 seconds (Medium)', 'Repeat: (none)', and 'Triggers'. The main slide area shows a cloud and a smiley face.

The session had been over by assigning the work (Create a PPT showing some basic shapes required for your experiment using Shape tab and merge shape from format menu) and provided the feedback link of day-1 to participants of same day.

Day-2 (26th August 2020)

In the Second Day of Workshop's resource person was Dr. Chitra Bhattacharya, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Microbiology, Atmiya University, Rajkot, Gujarat.

National Level 5 Days Hands on Training Workshop On Use of Animation in Creating Virtual Lab for Bioscience

Technical session started from the description and demonstration of script preparation for virtual lab practical preparation as an example of Mitosis. During the session, Dr. Chitra Bhattacharya has demonstrated How to create the motion stages for principle of mitosis by using basic shapes and how can animate the objects one by one. In the second day of National workshop participants had learnt How the static objects can be moved through PowerPoint animation.

The screenshot shows a Zoom meeting window. The top bar indicates the session is titled "Virtual Creation Workshop using Animation". The main content area displays a presentation slide with the title "GLOSSARY" in large blue letters. The slide is divided into two columns. The left column lists "Shortcut Keys" and "Animation" with their respective functions. The right column lists "Animation Pane" settings. The Zoom interface includes a top menu bar, a right-hand sidebar with participant information, and a bottom status bar.

Day-3 (27th August 2020)

In continuation of Third Day of National Workshop's resource person was Dr. Mousumi Das, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Microbiology, Atmiya University, Rajkot, Gujarat. In this session participants learnt, some freely available software's such as Cleanpng, Pixabay, Flicker.com, Remove.bg, ezgif.com and ben sound. In the extension of the lecture session, Dr. Mousumi Das, had demonstrated that how to use this freely available softwares from google search and what are the importance of these softwares, she also taught how to create gif image (moving images) from static photos, How to remove background from photos, how to select freely available images from google

Also give a background music to the ppt using bensound. Upload it in your Google drive and Paste PPT drive link here) and to provide the feedback link of day-3 to participants of the day.

Day-4 (28th August 2020)

In Second Last Day of this Workshop's resource person was Dr. Chitra Bhattacharya, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Microbiology, Atmiya University, Rajkot, Gujarat.

The second last wonderful day of this National Workshop was started from the demonstration of preparation steps for procedure of Mitosis by using png and gif images. In this session Dr. Chitra Bhattacharya, demonstrated the practical procedure of Mitosis stages through usages of cleanpng, images, gif images and give it animations and motions to all these png and gif files and to create the moving live images in power-point presentation. By following the pattern of this procedure people can improvise their old pattern of power-point slide, and to create innovative moving animated objects in power-point only.

Day-5 (29th August 2020)

In Last Day of this National Level Workshop's the two-resource persons were there - Dr. Chitra Bhattacharya, Assistant Professor, Dept. of Microbiology, & Dr. Ravi Ranjan Kumar Ravi, Assistant Professor, Department of Biotechnology Atmiya University, Rajkot, Gujarat.

Technical session started by Dr. Chitra Bhattacharya with the continuation of previous session where participants learnt about creation of scientific experiment. She added importance of transition effect on creating the video and also explained how to create moving animation mp4 video of power-point slide. She explained creation of video in all formats of windows 2010, 2013, 2016 and 2019 for the convenience of participants. Second technical session was delivered by Dr. Ravi Ranjan where he elucidated creation of Interactive video by using freely available software's like H5P, EdPuzzle and many more. Teachers have mentality to ask question from students even during video session, therefore, he solved this question through virtual platform. The resource person explained very stunningly about these softwares, if any teachers want to create interactive video and to augment MCQ questions, short question or POLE question into your created animated video or in already available videos.

ABOUT THE PROGRAMME

Atmiya university civil Engineering department Students have visited, Indira Sagar Dam Project. At Indira Sagar Dam site students have to studied how to selection of dam construction site and stone laying ceremony to the future expansion of dam. Students also studied the features and construction activity of all the dam components like, Foundation of Dam, Construction of dam body, Dam outlet works Power generation in two plants i.e. Canal Head Power Generation unit and River Bed Power Generation Unit., Operation of Canal Head Regulator etc.

INDIRA SAGAR DAM

The Indira Sagar Dam is a multipurpose project of the state Madhya Pradesh on the Narmada River at the town of Narmada Nagar, Punasa in the Khandwa district of Madhya Pradesh in India. The foundation stone of the project was laid by late Smt Indira Gandhi, former Prime Minister of India on 23 October 1984. The construction of the main dam started in 1992. The downstream projects of ISP are Omkareshwar, Maheshwar, and Sardar Sarovar Project. To build it, a town of 22,000 people and 100 villages were displaced

The Project envisages construction of a 92 m high and 653 m long concrete gravity dam. It provides Irrigation in 1,230 square kilometres of land with annual production of 2.7 billion units in the districts of Khandwa and Khargone in Madhya Pradesh and power generation of 1,000 MW (8x125 MW) installed capacity. The reservoir of 12,200,000,000 m³ (9,890,701 acre·ft) was created. In terms of storage of water, it withholds the largest reservoir in India, with capacity of 12.22 billion cu m or 12,2 km³, followed by Nagarjuna Sagar between Telangana and Andhra Pradesh. The dam was built as a joint venture between Madhya Pradesh irrigation and National Hydroelectric Power Corporation. It was commissioned on May 2005.

VEDH SHALA – JANTAR MANTAR, UJJAIN

Vedh Shala or Jantar Mantar is located in the holy city of New Ujjain. It is an observatory built by Maharaja Jai Singh II in 1725 which consists of 13 architectural astronomy instruments. The observatory is one of the five observatories built by Maharaja Jai Singh II when he was governor of Ujjain.

Vedh Shala was constructed with the aim of measuring local time, altitude (of the place) and also to measure declination of the Sun, stars and planets and to determine eclipses. Motion, speed and properties of stars and planets were also recorded using several special instruments.

Jai Singh II was also an astronomer and had deep interest in science and astronomy. In early 18th century, he sent his scholars to several countries to study design, construction and technology of the observatories and also the prevalent technology. The scholars returned with their observations and many manuals on astronomy. Subsequently between 1724 and 1737, Jai Singh II had five observatories constructed in Jaipur, Mathura, New Delhi, Ujjain and in Varanasi.

Geographically, the city of Ujjain is considered the Greenwich of India due to the fact that the first meridian of longitude in the Indian tradition passes through it. Moreover, it sits on the tropic of cancer.

Testimonials

It was a wonderful experience being in hackathon. it made me learn many other things related to the definition and showed me a direction of path to focus and work on. I think government should organise these kind of events regularly so that students can develop their knowledge and connect to the practical world.

Student

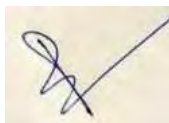

It was great to be part of this Hackathon. The volunteers are very helpful and are always ready to help anyone. The infrastructure provided is good and met new people and learnt new things, also explored a new place. At last this event was combination of learning, coding and fun.

Student

I would like to grateful thank to Atmiya University to provide wonderful venue and very good management. Thanks again for arranging the event in your university.

With the blessings and vision of P.P. Tyagvallabh swamiji, support and encouragement of Principal Dr. G. D. Acharya and Head of Department Asst. Prof. Tosal Bhalodia we, at Atmiya University, Rajkot, Gujarat had arranged 'Oracle Database Workshop' in the duration of 7th February, 2020 and 8th February, 2020. Our guest Prof. Parag Shukla gave a presentation class room regarding basic oracle database and query.

Objectives

- The programme teaches inductive reasoning to solve problems and think conceptually, systematically, and critically.
- Demonstrate how to use advanced features of the Oracle Database to enhance data management solution.
- This workshop will help students to understand the advanced features of SQL. Learning these features will help them to query and manipulate data within the database, use the dictionary views to retrieve metadata and create reports about their schema objects.
- Some of the date-time functions available in the Oracle Database are also covered.

Introduction:

Problem-solving sessions in mathematics are interactive and engaging learning environments designed to develop students' critical thinking skills and deepen their understanding of mathematical concepts. These sessions go beyond traditional lectures and exercises by presenting students with challenging problems that require creativity, analytical thinking, and application of theoretical knowledge. The goal is to equip students with the skills and confidence to tackle complex mathematical problems both in academic settings and real-world applications.

Objectives:

1. Enhance Problem-Solving Skills: The primary objective of problem-solving sessions is to improve students' ability to analyze problems, identify relevant concepts, and apply appropriate strategies to find solutions. By engaging in these sessions, students develop resilience and adaptability in tackling mathematical challenges.
2. Deepen Conceptual Understanding: Problem-solving sessions encourage students to explore and deepen their understanding of mathematical concepts. Through active exploration and experimentation, students reinforce their knowledge of algebra, geometry, calculus, and other mathematical disciplines.
3. Promote Critical Thinking: These sessions foster critical thinking by prompting students to evaluate different solution approaches, justify their reasoning, and make logical connections between concepts. This enhances their ability to think analytically and assess the validity of mathematical arguments.

Outcomes:

1. Improved Problem-Solving Ability: Participants in problem-solving sessions develop proficiency in approaching unfamiliar problems, applying appropriate methodologies, and arriving at solutions efficiently.
2. Enhanced Mathematical Confidence: Students gain confidence in their mathematical abilities as they successfully navigate through complex problem-solving scenarios and articulate their solutions.
3. Deeper Understanding of Concepts: Through exploration and discussion, students achieve a deeper understanding of foundational mathematical concepts and their interrelationships.
4. Effective Communication Skills: Problem-solving sessions cultivate students' ability to explain their thought processes, justify their solutions, and engage in meaningful mathematical discourse with peers and instructors.

In conclusion, problem-solving sessions in mathematics serve as invaluable opportunities for students to hone their problem-solving abilities, deepen their conceptual understanding, and

ABOUT PROGRAMME

On the occasion of MOU signing between Atmiya University, Rajkot and Miyazaki University, Japan a competition of poster presentation was arranged for final year students on the topic of Modern Civil Engineering techniques. In which 14 teams had participated with the various advancement techniques in civil engineering and the winner team was rewarded by cash prize.

For the competition, judging work was done by Prof. Murakami Kaizuke from Miyazaki University, Japan. After the completion of competition, an expert session was delivered by Prof. Murakami Kaizuke which consisted mainly of recent advancements and upgradation in field of civil engineering. Students were made aware about each advancement in detail.

OUT COME OF THE SESSION

Poster presentations develop your ability to communicate perceptively (matching your explanation to audience) and concisely - an important workplace skill. The purpose of poster presentation will be shaped by how they are used in discipline and by the assessment task itself.

We invited Dhaval Gohel for alumni expert talk with the Webbers club.

About Python Club :

- Made by the students for the students, Python Club aims to unite in one place, all about the Python language and related technologies.
- Python Club is everyone's, anyone who wants to collaborate with what they know is welcome. Like Python, everything and everyone is free. Feel free to share your knowledge and experience.

What is Python? :

Python is an interpreted, object-oriented, high- level programming language with dynamic semantics. Its high- level built in data structures, combined with dynamic typing and dynamic binding; make it very attractive for Rapid Application Development, as well as for use as a scripting or glue language to connect existing components together. Python's simple, easy to learn syntax emphasizes readability and therefore reduces the cost of program maintenance. Python supports modules and packages, which encourages program modularity and code reuse. The Python interpreter and the extensive standard library are available in source or binary form without charge for all major platforms, and can be freely distributed.

Problem-solving sessions in mathematics are integral to developing students' proficiency in problem-solving, critical thinking, and mathematical reasoning. These sessions go beyond routine exercises by presenting students with challenging problems that require creativity, exploration of concepts, and application of various problem-solving strategies. Here's an introduction to what problem-solving sessions in mathematics entail:

Introduction to Problem-Solving Sessions in Mathematics

Mathematics problem-solving sessions are structured learning experiences designed to engage students in active exploration and discovery. These sessions typically involve:

1. Challenging Problems: Students are presented with problems that require deeper thinking and application of mathematical concepts. These problems are carefully chosen to be within students' reach but also to stretch their understanding and skills.
2. Active Engagement: Problem-solving sessions encourage active participation from students. They are encouraged to brainstorm ideas, discuss strategies, and collaborate with peers to explore different approaches to the problem.
3. Critical Thinking: Emphasis is placed on developing critical thinking skills. Students are challenged to analyze the problem, identify relevant information, and formulate a plan of attack. They must justify their reasoning and decisions throughout the problem-solving process.
4. Exploration of Concepts: These sessions provide an opportunity for students to apply and consolidate their understanding of mathematical concepts and techniques. They may revisit and deepen their knowledge of algebra, geometry, calculus, or other relevant topics as they work through the problems.
5. Collaborative Learning: Problem-solving sessions often involve collaborative learning experiences. Students work in pairs or small groups to share ideas, discuss solutions, and learn from each other's approaches. This fosters communication skills and the ability to articulate mathematical reasoning.
6. Reflection and Feedback: At the conclusion of the session, students reflect on their problem-solving journey. They discuss what strategies were effective, what challenges they faced, and what they learned from the experience. Feedback from peers and the teacher enhances their understanding and improves their problem-solving techniques.

In essence, problem-solving sessions in mathematics are designed to nurture a deeper understanding of mathematical concepts, enhance problem-solving skills, and cultivate a positive attitude towards tackling challenges. They prepare students not only for academic success but also for applying mathematical thinking in diverse situations throughout their lives.

INTRODUCTION TO ANDROID AND ANDROID STUDIO

Alumni:

We invited Aakash Patel for alumni expert talk with the Android club.

INTRODUCTION:

Android workshop was an activity workshop (Computer Engineering Department) wherein students were taught to design and develop meaningful android application that can be utilized in real environment. The students also shared their knowledge about new improvements or updates in android platform if encountered by them.

Android has been the best-selling OS worldwide on smartphones since 2011 and on tablets since 2013. As of May 2017, it has over two billion monthly active users, the largest installed base of any operating system, and as of June 2018, the Google Play store features over 3.3 million apps.

A project in Android Studio contains everything that defines your workspace for an app, from source code and assets, to test code and build configurations. When you start a new project, Android Studio creates the necessary structure for all your files and makes them visible in the Project window on the left side of the IDE (click View > Tool Windows > Project). By default, Android Studio displays your project files in the Android view. This view does not reflect the actual file hierarchy on disk, but is organized by modules and file types to simplify navigation between key source files of your project To change various settings for your Android Studio project, open the Project Structure dialog by clicking File > Project Structure. It contains the following sections:

- SDK Location: Sets the location of the JDK, Android SDK, and Android NDK that your project uses.
- Project: Sets the version for Gradle and the Android plugin for Gradle, and the repository location name.
- Developer Services: Contains settings for Android Studio add-in components from Google or other third parties. See Developer Services, below.
- Modules: Allows you to edit module-specific build configurations, including the target and minimum SDK, the app signature, and library dependencies

Alumni:

we invited Krupa Rajpara for alumni expert talk with the Webbers club.

The PHP Hypertext Preprocessor (PHP) is a programming language that allows web developers to create dynamic content that interacts with databases. PHP is basically used for developing web based software applications. This tutorial helps you to build your base with PHP. Why to Learn PHP?

PHP started out as a small open source project that evolved as more and more people found out how useful it was. Rasmus Lerdorf unleashed the first version of PHP way back in 1994.

PHP is a MUST for students and working professionals to become a great Software Engineer specially when they are working in Web Development Domain. I will list down some of the key advantages of learning PHP:

- PHP is a recursive acronym for "PHP: Hypertext Preprocessor".
- PHP is a server side scripting language that is embedded in HTML. It is used to manage dynamic content, databases, session tracking, even build entire e-commerce sites.
- It is integrated with a number of popular databases, including MySQL, PostgreSQL, Oracle, Sybase, Informix, and Microsoft SQL Server.
- PHP is pleasingly zippy in its execution, especially when compiled as an Apache module on the Unix side. The MySQL server, once started, executes even very complex queries with huge result sets in record-setting time.
- PHP supports a large number of major protocols such as POP3, IMAP, and LDAP. PHP4 added support for Java and distributed object architectures (COM and CORBA), making n-tier development a possibility for the first time.
- PHP is forgiving: PHP language tries to be as forgiving as possible.
- PHP Syntax is C-Like.

REPORT

About Cyber Security Club :

- Made by the students for the students, Cyber Security Club aims to unite in one place, all about the Cyber Security and related technologies.
- Cyber Security Club is everyone's, anyone who wants to collaborate with what they know is welcome. Like Cyber Security, everything and everyone is free. Feel free to share your knowledge and experience.

What is Cyber Security? :

- Cyber security is the protection of internet-connected systems, including hardware, software and data, from cyber attacks.
- In a computing context, security comprises cyber security and physical security -- both are used by enterprises to protect against unauthorized access to data centers and other computerized systems. Information security, which is designed to maintain the confidentiality, integrity and availability of data, is a subset of cyber security. Effective cyber security reduces the risk of cyber attacks, and protects organisations and individuals from the unauthorised exploitation of systems, networks and technologies.

Activities:

NMAP Port Scanning: Nmap, short for Network Mapper, is a free and open source tool used for vulnerability checking, port scanning and, of course, network mapping. Despite being created back in 1997, Nmap remains the gold standard against which all other similar tools, either commercial. Because of its flexible, open source code base, it can be modified to work within most customized or heavily specialized environments.

INTRODUCTION OF VIRTUAL REALITY

Because every building is different and every site is unique, construction has never been an easily scaled industry. VR changes that by making it easy to share across teams and get new teams quickly up to date on relevant issues.

Creating a 3D model of a construction site used to be a complex physical process that required space, time, and materials. These miniature models were helpful in orienting the project, but by necessity contained inaccuracies and lacked detail.

3D modelling software changed the game by making it possible not only to create a detailed, accurate model more quickly and cheaply, but also by making it possible to share those models across teams. VR takes it to a new level by making it possible for people to immerse themselves in the project as though they were actually there, and interact with the environment exactly as though engaged in a walk-through.

Armed with these technologies, teams on opposite sides of the country can “walk through” a site together and examine its details in real time together.

Furthermore, lessons learned from walkthroughs can be applied across construction management teams and across projects to continually improve processes and create consistency and scale.

OUTCOME OF THE SESSION

- Awareness of virtual reality in modern technical era.
- Scope of usage of VR box and its limitation.
- Process of 3D modelling for different component which are existing in real world.
