Conference Theme & Tracks

The 2nd International Conference on Emerging Trends & Contemporary Practices (ICETCP-2024) aims to explore the inter-connected dimensions of technology, Sustainability and Co-existence. We aim to explore pathway to address emerging sustainability challenges arising out of fast changes in the technology coupled with social and economic dynamics across the world.

Through this track, we seek research contributions focusing on new technological developments as well as technology-driven solutions to different social, economic and environmental problems. We also encourage researchers to critically examine and assess the application of technology across the different settings with emphasis on arising issues from the use of technology. More specifically one or more dimensions of technology development and its' application can be linked to some of the following:
